BREAK THE RECORD ON OPENING DAY!

Seventeen Wholesale Grocers and Dozen Other Big Concerns Are Added Today to Post-Dispatch's Rapidly Growing Honor List.

MANY MAKE PRESENTS TO EMPLOYES OF FAIR TICKETS

Every Hour Sees Increased Indication That Attendance Will Surpass First Estimate—Idea Is Growing Into a Big, Public-Spirited Movement.

If the local weather forecaster of St. Louis can read the signs aright—and he thinks he can—Saturday, the opening day of the Fair, will not only be fair, but warm.

Furthermore, he believes that the time intervening between today and Saturday will be the same.

The official forecast reads:

"Fair tonight and Friday; no decided change in the temperature. Fresh north winds, becoming variable.

"Conditions seem favorable for a fair and pleasant day for Saturday, the opening day of the World's Fair.

"There isn't a storm in sight anywhere that is likely to affect St. Louis," said Mr. Bowie to the Post-Dispatch today.

"So far as our information goes, there is no sign of bad weather for us, and the World's Fair is promised a glorious day for its beginning."

The wholesale grocers of St. Louis are among the latest to enlist in the movement, suggested by the Post-Dispatch, for a general business holiday in St. Louis in honor of the World's Fair opening day.

A canvass by Warren L. Clark, president of the eBnjamin W. Clark Grocery Co., resulted in 17 of the most important wholesale houses in the city agreeing to close. Mr. Clark sends this letter to the Post-Dispatch, announcing the results:

"I have made a canvass of the most important wholesale grocers in St. Louis as regards closing on Saturday, the opening day of the Exposition. I found a great many who had not taken the matter under consideration, but after I finished, the following decided to close tight from Friday night to Monday morning." (The list is given elsewhere.)

Almost every hour finds the list growing in length and importance. The promptness with which the business world has met the Post-Dispatch suggestion for a general holiday has never been equaled in this city.

The agreements to close insure that the downtown business district will be practically deserted by both merchants and their customers, and that the city will send through the gates of the World's Fair on opening day the largest crowd, by several thousands, that ever gathered at the ceremonial opening of an exposition.

As has already been told in the Post-Dispatch, many of the houses, in addition to giving their employes a holiday, will give each of them two tickets to the World's Fair, and almost to an individual the employes will be present at the opening.

In addition to the lists of those who will close, already published, and including nearly all of the big department stores, the large wholesale and manufacturing concerns, the commission houses, the smaller groceries and shops that will close at 9 o'clock Saturday morning, the banks and trust companies, the real estate offices, and others in all lines of business, these firms today agreed to close from Friday night until Monday morning:

Benjamin W. Clark Grocery Co.
H. W. Gildehaus & Co.
Guildehaus-Wulfing & Co.
Goddard Grocery Co.
J. M. Anderson & Co.
C. L. Buschman & Co.
J. M. Houston Grocer Co.

MAN PLUNGED TO HIS DEATH IN THE RIVER

Fishermen Made Desperate Efforts to Save the Unidentified Suicide, but He Fought Off His Would-Be Rescuers.

LATCH KEY AND WATCH MAY CLEAR UP MYSTERY

The Man Was About 35 Years Old and Has Scar on His Left Cheek—He Had Only Seventy Cents in His Pockets.

Two fishermen attempted to save the life of an unidentified white man who jumped in the river at 11:55 Thursday morning at the foot of Cherokee street but after a long row and a desperate struggle to get him ashore the man was drowned.

The two men who went to his aid are Vattie Schneider and Newton Henninger. They live at 3022 De Kalb street, and were fishing some distance away when they saw the man jump into the river. After dragging the body out they notified the police.

The man came to the water's edge unnoticed by the fishermen who were about 50 yards from the spot where he jumped in.

They chanced to look in that direction just as the man jumped and they at once started on a run for the place, jumped in and swam to the man's aid.

It was evident from the way the man fought them off that he did not want assistance, and before they could succeed in getting him ashore he had drowned.

The man is about 35 years old, is five feet four inches tall and has a scar an inch long on his left cheek.

He had on a sack coat of gray material which made up his suit. He wore a slouch hat, has dark brown hair and mustache of the same color.

In his pocketbook was found a pocketbook containing 70 cents and a latch key marked "K 106."

He also had a gold watch, the case of which is numbered 42,704, and the works are numbered 365,088.

TO PREVENT A BOYCOTTING

Huttig Sash and Door Co. Appeal to the United States Circuit Court for Protection and Injuncion.

In the United States Circuit Court Thursday morning the Huttig Sash and Door Co. secured a temporary injunction against Reinhard Fuelle and thirteen other individuals, restraining them from boycotting the Huttig company, or intimidating its customers with threats of strikes if they continued to patronize the plaintiff.

The hearing on the application for a permanent injunction is set for May 14.

The defendants named in the petition are Fuelle, George C. Newman, Walter G. Cole, Charles Vore, Emil R. Ruhl, James W. Traner, James A. Shine, Alvin Hohenstein, Henry Rosenbaum, John C. Lyons, John E. Spangler, Henry High and John Cassidy.

The defendants are members of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners, and the trouble with the Huttig company arose from the refusal of that company to sign an agreement with the brotherhood to employ only union men.

IMPROVING TRACK AT UNION COURSE

Sunshine and Attractive Card Result in an Increased Attendance Thursday.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

UNION RACE TRACK, St. Louis, April 28.—Thursday was an ideal one at Union Park. It was a typical April day.

As a result, there was a large attendance, which was catered to by a dozen bookmakers.

The track was greatly improved, but was not fast. Unless it rains between now and Saturday, it will be ready for record making by that date.

Friday will be ladies' day.

"NOT ONE PEEP," SAID GUARD

Mrs. Carl Mayhoff of Virginia, Lady Manager, Discovers Secret in Woman's Building.

"Indeed!"

"Really! I"—

"Of all the extraordinary proceedings!"

"This is quite too much, this unwonted officiousness and stupidity."

"I'm not to see the inside of that drawing room until I secure a permit, am I? I"—

The indignation of Mrs. Carl Mayhoff of Monticello, Va., rose, soared until she could find no words to express it.

Mrs. Mayhoff is a member of the Board of Lady Managers of the World's Fair from Virginia.

A guard in the Woman's building denied her admittance to the drawing room, where she desired to inspect the new furnishings.

Just what's in that room is going to remain a secret until the building is opened.

CONGRESS ENDS ITS WORK AND ADJOURNS

President Is at the Capitol During the Closing Hours to Expedite the Routine Work by Signing Bills Needing His Approval.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, April 28.—Both houses of Congress adjourned for the session promptly at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

Both houses met at 10:30 this morning and began to rush the closing work.

President Roosevelt arrived at the capital today at 11:25 a. m., to attend to his official duties incident to the adjournment of Congress.

Nearly all the members of the cabinet had preceded him and were waiting in the President's room.

He was accompanied by Mr. Loeb, his secretary, and the whole executive force of the White House. A number of bills passed last night and today received his signature.

The Republican and the Democratic view of appropriations made thus far by the Fifty-eighth Congress were presented to the House today by Chairman Hemenway of the appropriations committee, and Representative Livingston of Georgia, the ranking Democratic member of that committee.

"Good Government Housekeeping" is the caption chosen by Mr. Hemenway to represent his views.

"A Congress that has done nothing but spend money" is the heading of Mr. Livingston's summary.

After reviewing the expenditures for the next fiscal year, Mr. Hemenway concludes: "The expenditures of our government in their aggregate, as exhibited by the appropriations of Congress, are large, and by unthinking persons and especially by misguided newspapers, are denounced as extravagant and yet, according to the very best authority, our national government is the most economically administered of any in the civilized world."

A table to substantiate this statement is given, showing the per capita expenditures of the leading nations. The highest given is New Zealand, where the per capita expense is $30.39; the lowest is the United States, with a per capita showing of $7.97.

NASHVILLE ARRIVES TOMORROW

Eleven O'Clock Is Hour Set for Gunboat, Which Destroyer Will Accompany.

The United States gunboat Nashville, under command of Commander Baker, U. S. N., will reach St. Louis at 11 o'clock Friday morning. Telegraphic advices received Thursday morning state that she is coming up stream at half speed, under escort of the lighthouse tender Lily, and will have no difficulty in reaching here on schedule time.

The torpedo boat destroyer Lawrence was reported behind the Nashville Thursday morning, but it is expected that she will catch up and that both steamers will come into port together. In the event that the Lawrence does not catch the Nashville in time, the gunboat will proceed alone, the Lawrence being expected to follow shortly.

BOOTH TUCKER AT THE FAIR

Salvation Army Commander and His Party Are Expected in St. Louis Friday.

Commander Booth Tucker of the Salvation Army and party will arrive in St. Louis for the opening of the World's Fair, at which the Salvation Army will have an exhibit.

During their visit to St. Louis special demonstrations will be held at No. 1 hall, 1113 Franklin avenue, Saturday night, and at No. 2 hall, corner Eighth and Walnut streets. Sunday meetings at 11 o'clock in the morning, 3 o'clock in the afternoon, and 8 o'clock at night will be conducted by Commander Booth Tucker in the Olympic theater.

The party is expected to arrive in St. Louis some time Friday.

PRINCE PU LUN OF CHINA COMES THIS AFTERNOON

Notable Embassy Chosen to Greet Royal Representative of Celestial Empire Who Comes to Stay a Month at the Exposition.

FORMAL CALL PLANNED BY PRES. FRANCIS AND MAYOR

Magnificent Equipage, Drawn by Bay Horses, Secured to Take Scion of Royalty to Washington Hotel, Headquarters for a Month.

Prince Pu Lun, Chinese royal commissioner to the Fair, will reach St. Louis this afternoon from Washington.

The prince will come into Union Station upon track 2, at the Twentieth street end of the station.

The reception committee which is to receive him and conduct him to the Washington Hotel will assemble upon the second floor of the station, in the assembly room, and march down into the midway when the train arrives.

From that time on the reception will assume the formality commanded by the visitor's rank. The prince, accompanied by the Chinese commissioner to the United States, will step from the train and be escorted by the reception committee to the assembly room of the station, where he will be received and welcomed to the city and the Exposition by Mayor Wells, President Francis and the members of the reception committee.

The gentlemen will then proceed to the carriages. In the first carriage President Francis and Mayor Wells will ride.

The second carriage will be that of the prince. It will be the coach of luxury of the procession, having been specially made for the occasion. It will be drawn by four bay horses spanned and matched for the event, and will be occupied by the prince and the Chinese minister. Each of the horses will be ridden by a postillion.

The third carriage will be occupied by M. D. Hirschberg, chairman of the reception committee, and members of this committee.

In the fourth carriage will ride Adolphus Busch and Francis A. Carl, the last-named one of the Chinese vice-commissioners.

The other members of the reception committee will ride in the carriages which will follow.

The procession will move north on Nineteenth street to Pine, west on Pine to King's Highway, and thence to the Washington Hotel, Washington Boulevard and King's Highway, where the Prince will leave his carriage and go to the suite engaged for him.

Later in the afternoon Mayor Wells and President Francis will make an official call upon the prince, and subsequently he will return President Francis' call at the Administration building.

BRIGHT DAY DRAWS LARGE CROWD OUT

Best Atendance of the Week Is Reported at the Fair Grounds Thursday.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

FAIR GROUNDS, April 28.—Splendid weather attracted the best crowd of the week to the Fair Grounds today.

Fully three thousand people were on hand. The track dried out considerably over night, but was still heavy and slow. Restitution and Toddy were withdrawn from the first race, and Blue Blaze was scratched in the fourth.

RESULTS AT JAMAICA.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

JAMAICA, April 28.—Weather raining; track sloppy.

First race, six furlongs—For Luck 90 (Brennan), 9 to 2, first; Clear The Arena 86 (Storm), 15 to 1, second; Singing Master 93 (Hildebrand), 4 to 1, third. Time, 1:18 2-5.

BROWNS AND BLUES REST

Rain, Wet Grounds and Cold Weather Again Cause Postponement of Game at Cleveland.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

CLEVELAND, O., April 28.—For the second time the Browns and Clevelands are forced to rest quietly in their hotels, and await the pleasure of the weather-controlling fates.

The game today was postponed for the same reasons as those which prompted the postponement of yesterday—rainy weather, wet grounds, and a temperature that is close to the freezing point.

There were signs this afternoon that the weather would clear up and grow warmer by tomorrow, and if the signs prove correct the game tomorrow can be played.

THURSDAY'S POSTPONED GAMES.

Rain and wet grounds caused the postponement Thursday of the following baseball games:

AMERICAN LEAGUE.

New York vs. Philadelphia, at Philadelphia.
Browns vs. Cleveland, at Cleveland.

WHERE THEY PLAY TOMORROW.

NATIONAL LEAGUE.

Cincinnati at St. Louis.

GAVE WIFE DRUG THAT KILLED HER

Otto Oard Thought to Ease Her Pain and She Took Overdose of Morphine.

Morphine, administered by her husband, Otto, caused the death of Mrs. Kate Oard, of 1809 Biddle street. She died at the City Hospital early Thursday morning.

Wednesday evening Mrs. Oard complained of a severe pain in her side. The ordinary household remedies failing her husband gave her what proved to be an overdose of morphine in tablets.

About 2 o'clock in the morning Oard found that he was unable to rouse his wife. An ambulance was called and she was taken to the hospital where she died.

Oard, who is a barber, is being held by the police for the inquest.

CUARTEL CLOSED TO PUBLIC.

Adjoining Stockade on Philippine Reservation Is Also Affected.

The Cuartel Filipino is an impregnable fortress now, save to those who are possessed of special passes. Strict orders were given Wednesday evening that none save qualified pasbearers should be permitted to enter the Cuartel and the adjoining stockade.

Senator Carter, president of the National Commission and a party of friends were the last to enter the grounds without passes. Immediately at the close of their visit the order that no others should be admitted was given out.

THE WEATHER INDICATIONS.

CHICAGO, April 28.—Forecast:

Missouri—Fair Thursday night, possibly followed by showers Friday; warmer Friday; variable winds.

Since the period of 1814, when the picturesque in clothes had its decline, never have boys' clothes been so beautiful. A new era has developed, marked for its original designs and for its artistic effect and color harmonics. We are enthusiastically in accord with this new reign of the beautiful. Here are shown the best examples of these art clothes which need not be costly, altho' they possess great merit in workmanship and fabric dependency.

Double-Breasted Serge Suits, belts of same material, linen crash sailor collars and white linen crash shields—also with white pique collar and shields.

PLEASE, MISTER, BUY ME A BLOND

Juan de la Cruz, 29 Inches Tall and 29 Years Old, Discusses St. Louis Girls.

RED-HEADED GIRLS TOO NEW

Smallest Grown Man in the World Tells President Francis That Brunettes Are Not to His Liking

Juan de la Cruz, 29 years old, 29 inches tall, garbed in a big derby hat, a natty tan overcoat and twirling a tiny cane, sat on the curved foot of a revolving chair in Secretary Stevens' office at the Administration building Thursday morning and gravely discussed with President Francis, Secretary Stevens, Capt. Young and Capt. Kingsbury the St. Louis girl.

He spoke in Spanish, which was interpreted by W. S. Evans, his bodyguard; but what he said was, as interpreted, strictly to the point.

"I like your blondes," he said. "They are beautiful! They are great! I should like to buy one and take her home with me after the Fair.

"I have seen your red-headed girls. But I never saw any red-headed girls before, and I do not know just what to say about them. I think I like them next to the blondes, but I am not sure yet. They are too new. And you have so many of them! My!

"Your brunettes? Oh, they are charming, too; but we have so many brunettes in our country, you know! I like the blondes best; and maybe, when I get used to them, I'll like your red-headed girls next best."

Juan de la Cruz claims to be the smallest grown man in the world. Before he took his seat on the curved foot of the chair, his head reached just to the seat of it.

After he had discussed the St. Louis girl, he arose and stood between President Francis and Capt. Kingsbury, each of whom is a good six feet in height. He looked up at them, and they bent over and looked down at him, until all parties to the conversation had cricks in their necks.

The little man went to the Administration building to pay his formal respects to the World's Fair officials. After that was done he made a tour of the other offices, and looked delightedly at the pretty blonde and red-headed stenographers whom he passed.

TYPEWRITER GIRLS NOW TO ORGANIZE

They Think of All Workers They Are the Most Abused Class at Present Time.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, April 28.—And now the typewriter girl has "organized."

Long celebrated in song and story as a thing of beauty and a joy forever—at least from the masculine viewpoint—she has emulated the example of the sterner sex and means to stand against it for her rights. It is no trifling movement, either. Back of it is the power of the American Federation of Labor, one of the chief organizers of which, Herman Robinson, has undertaken the preliminary details of formation.

Miss Elsie Diehl, who taps the keys in a little office at 322 East Fifty-ninth street, is the sponsor of the new union, and yesterday she told of its inception and growth.

"From my own experience and that of others," she said, "I came to the conclusion last January that stenographers and typewriters were an abused class of workers, and I determined to do my best to stop these abuses, which come from agencies, as well as from employers. Aside from the low salaries paid to stenographers, there are several other grievances that can only be remedied through united action.

"No one person can bring about these reforms or right the wrongs that exist. The American Federation of Labor, through its executive council, and the entire trade union movement, stands pledged to support us. We met for the first time last Wednesday at 67 St. Mark's place, and, do you know, we have 30 girls enrolled already. Yes, there are an admission fee of $1 and dues of 50 cents a month.

"No, indeed, it is not going to be exclusively feminine. In fact, I rather prefer a majority of men. The women don't like to give up their dollar. We hope to get all the stenographers in the city in the union eventually. The average stenographer nowadays gets only about $7 or $8 a week, no matter how expert she may be. Now we propose to see that beginners get that much, and qualified stenographers about $15. Then there's the question of hours. Some of us have to work from 8 in the morning until 6 or 7 at night. We want the hours to be from 9 in the morning until 5 in the afternoon.

"Then, again," continued Miss Diehl, "many girl stenographers have to do bookkeeping and office work besides. Experience doesn't seem to count for anything. We are going to meet again on Thursday night and organize thoroughly. I am the financial secretary and William Barney is the corresponding secretary, but we have not got a president yet. I guess we'll pick one out Thursday.

"Is the union prospering yet? Well, I should say so. Why, we've got $20 in the treasury already!"

HER SECOND ATTEMPT TO DIE.

Mary St. John Poured Coal Oil Over Her Clothing and Set Fire to It.

Mary St. John, a negro woman living at 510 North Third street, East St. Louis, made her second attempt at suicide Thursday afternoon, and will probably die.

She saturated her clothing with coal oil and then set it afire. As the flames burned her flesh, she ran into the street and atetmpted to save herself by rolling in the mud, but was so badly burned that her recovery is not anticipated.

Wednesday evening, she tried to cut her throat, but the knife was taken away from her by her husband, James St. John.

Lunch for Fair.

Two nut butter sandwiches; big dinner in nourishment, on sale Fair entrance, 5 cents.

Business Friends Pall-Bearers.

Ernest Evans, 13 years silk clerk for the Wm. Barr Dry Goods Co., and 52 years of age, died Wednesday from pneumonia at his home, 4538 Garfield avenue. Business associates were chosen to act as pallbearers at the funeral Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Mr. Evans came to America from London 25 years ago, and has lived in St. Louis and Memphis. He leaves his widow and four children.

Church Women Sell Lunches.

Dainty box lunches distributed from a placarded and gaily decorated touring car will be offered to the hungry throng about the main entrances to the Fair grounds by the women of the Christian church. The Christian Ladies' Aid Box Lunch Co. is the name of the organization which has been formed by the women of the church. Competent managers have been engaged and an automobile secured to help advertise the venture. The box lunches will be placed on sale soon after the Fair opens and the business will continue throughout

Women's Moderate-Priced Apparel

Special Values Just Received

The backward season in the East has enabled us to purchase choice lots of ready-to-wear apparel from leading makers who, enthusiastic over very heavy early selling, overstocked themselves on their best styles in moderate-priced Walking Suits and Skirts. The values are the strongest we have shown this season.

Mohair Walking Skirts, $4.00, $7.50 and $9.00
Mohair Walking Suits, $18.50, $22.50 and $25.00
Silk Walking Suits, $25.00, $27.50 and $32.00
Silk Shirt-Waist Suits, $20.00, $25.00 and $27.50

This is an assemblage of the most pleasing styles and fabrics produced this season. Even at these low prices the styles are usually exclusive. A prominent feature of these garments is the careful workmanship and the neatness of the styles. They show the skill of high-class designing. The assortments are sufficiently broad to make selections comparatively easy. We were never better prepared at this season of the year with special values.

Our Second Annual May Sale of Children's Undermuslins Opens Monday, May 2d

JAPANESE GIVE UP LIFE RATHER THAN SURRENDER

Troops Go Down in Ship Though Russians Offer to Take Them Off Before Sinking Her With Vladivostok Torpedo Boats.

MUSCOVITE NAVAL RAIDERS CAPTURE, DESTROY TRANSPORT

Few of Those on Board Accept Terms of Safety, but the Others Prefer Watery Grave to Imprisonment by Foe.

ST. PETERSBURG, April 28.—Russian torpedo boats belonging to the Vladivostok squadron sank a Japanese military transport, the Kinshu-Maru, of 4000 tons, during the night of April 26, with all on board, with the exception of 17 officers, 20 soldiers, 65 of the crew and 85 coolie carriers.

The others, who refused to surrender, were sent to the bottom with the ship.

The official report of Rear Admiral Yezen to the Emperor is as follows:

"During the night of April 26, two Russian torpedo boats met at sea the Japanese military transport Kinchiu-Maru, of 4000 tons, laden with rice and other military stores and about 1500 tons of coal. The transport was armed with four Hotchkiss guns of 47 millimeters. The Russians captured on board 17 officers, 20 soldiers, 85 military carriers, or coolies, and 65 of the crew, who surrendered.

"The remainder of the men who were to form a landing party and who were left without officers, obstinately refused to surrender or go on board a Russian cruiser. Furthermore, they offered armed resistance to the Russians. In the end they were sent to the bottom with the transport.

The number of men drowned is not given.

Admiral Yeszen also reports that, besides the sinking of the Japanese steamer, Goyo-Maru at Won-San (Gen-San), April 25, the Russians sank at sea the same evening the Japanese steamer Nakamur-Maru, of 220 tons, whose crew was saved.

THE TWO ARMIES NOW PLANNING TRAPS AND DOING LITTLE FIGHTING

ST. PETERSBURG, April 28.—The Associated Press is informed that no further news has been received here from Won-San, Corea, or from the Yalu river. Communication with these places is necessarily slow.

The city these days is full of wild rumors of heavy Japanese reverses on the Yalu and off the coast of Corea, but it is significant that no official reports tending to confirm them have been given out.

The truth is that none of these rumors is credited in official circles, eager as the officials are for good news from the East.

The only fighting now going on consists of slight skirmishes between scouting parties of the opposing columns, and, while cant that no official reports tending to considerable in proportion to the men engaged, they are insignificant considered in connection with the armies in the aggregate.

The war on land now apparently consists of maneuvers, each side trying to outwit the other—the Russians being occupied with the endeavor to draw the Japanese into Manchuria for a decisive battle against heavy odds, and the Japanese simply trying to get in between Port Arthur and Kuropatkin's army.

Some Weird Reports That Reach Russians.

Among the reports that have gained circulation here is the following:

"The Russian torpedo boats outside Port Arthur captured several Japanese transports and declared them prisoners of war.

"Although the Japanese hoisted the white flag and surrendered, the Russian commander, suspecting they were communicating with Admiral Togo by wireless telegraphy, sank all the transports, together with 3000 men."

This, of course, is generally believed among the populace but it is not credited among those who are best informed.

Aside from the improbability that any Russian commander would sink a ship that had run up the white flag, there is every reason to believe that the entire Russian fleet, including the torpedo boats, is hugging Port Arthur harbor closely. Indeed, it is now the Russian admiralty's avowed policy to husband the fleet until the Baltic squadron can be sent to its aid, and even the Russians admit it is highly dangerous for any of the ships to venture out of the range of the fort's guns, which they would have been compelled to do to catch Japanese transports.

Another rumor, even more weird than this, is that a Russian submarine boat has sunk a transport with 600 men. There is absolutely no reason to credit this report. If the Russians have sent some submarine craft to Port Arthur, it is believed they are not yet ready for use.

General Staff Admits Japs Have Succeeded.

The Associated Press has obtained from the general staff the following clear statement of the situation:

"Before beginning the passage of the Yalu, the Japanese evidently completed the concentration of the armies along the river, commanded by Gens. Kuroki and Oku. Each army is composed of three divisions and three reserve brigades. The total force is 100,000. The Russians on the Manchurian bank of the river are inferior in strength.

"Having perfected the essential preparations, the Japanese, without waste of time, commenced the passage of the river and the Russians realized that it would be impossible to prevent their crossing. The Japanese front extended from Wiju as far as Piek Tong, over 80 miles. We faced the possibility that they would cross at a score of places and all we could hope was to harrass and impede the crossing, for every day gained enabled us to push our preparations and bring up more men.

"There are only two instances in history where an army was unable to cross a river—that of Napoleon at Aspern and that of Prince Eugene of Savoy, at Lech. Both failed because of floods. The Yalu proved no exception to the established rule.

"We know that the Japanese crossed at at least two points. Their first attempt to force a passage, near Chand Che Kow, 20 miles above Wiju, near Siaopoussikhe, on the Poussikhe, a tributary of the Yalu, was successful. This is important because a road leads from Siaopoussikhe northeast to Kwan Tien, which commands one of the roads to Mukden.

"It is evident that the Japanese devoted most of their attention to crossing near Wiju. The river here is divided into several channels by islands, the largest of which is Samalindo. Above and below Wiju the river was bridged at three points.

Russians Resist at Only One Point.

"Up the stream, near Sindigau, the Japanese were watched by a small detachment of Cossacks, but the army was practically unopposed. At Turenchen, lower down, our outposts directed a fire from a field piece so successfully that they destroyed the moorings and wrecked the pontoons. The enemy was thrown into disorder and suffered considerable loss. Still further down the stream the Japanese proceeded to make a third attempt at crossing.

"We do not think that the Japanese will attempt to land at Takushan or Tatung Kau, now that they have crossed the Yalu. The object of such landings has been to cause a diversion so as to enable the Japanese to cross the river. Takushan is not a good strategic point. The road leading therefrom is bad and troops could only be supplied with great difficulty.

"With regard to future operations we cannot speak. The Russians will not show their hand at this stage, but will continually harass the enemy, choosing their own time for a battle."

A military expert, who is practically impressed with the Japanese crossing near Siaopoussikhe, said that the use of the road therefore would enable the enemy not only to march upon Mukden, but to outflank the Russian position at Feng Huan Cheng and cut off any of Gen. Rennenkampf's Cossacks who may have gone to join the attack on Gen. San.

The Japanese troops which crossed the Yalu north of Wiju charged during the night of April 26-27 the Russian position near Lizavena, a village on the Manchurian bank of the Yalu.

They were repulsed, but their loss is not known.

Two gunboats steamed up the river to the support of the Japanese, when a Russian field battery at Amisan opened up on them, resulting in a duel which lasted for twenty minutes. The Russian fire was too hot and the gunboats were forced to steam out of range.

JAPANESE FIRE RAFTS SUNK, BUT CONTINUE TO BURN UNDER WATER.

ST. PETERSBURG, April 28.—The Russian press is aroused over the talk of mediation and is inclined to attribute the responsibility for the proposal to the Anglo-French agreement, the result being the agreement does not obtain favor. The Novoe Vremya declares the Anglo-French understanding has rendered poor service to Russia in prompting the idea of mediation, and adds:

"It is idle to expect an Anglo-Russian understanding as a result of the Anglo-French entente. It will take a long time for Great Britain to reach Russia's confidence."

The Port Arthur correspondent of the Russky Invalid writes:

"The Japanese have invented a new combustible. It is inextinguishable. They tried to burn the battleship Retzivan by setting adrift rafts loaded with this burning material. The Retvizan sank them, but the combustible continued to burn under water.

"A Japanese 12-inch shell exploded in the yard of Gen. Stoessel's house, outside Port Arthur. It broke a rooster's leg."

Car Suicide Identified.

The mystery regarding James H. Phillips' disappearance after he left a hospital at Springfield, Mo., April 10, may be completely solved when the body of the man who committed suicide April 11 by throwing himself in front of a Grand avenue car is exhumed. The man's clothing was identified Wednesday as belonging to Phillips.

COUGH INJURES DR. M'GEE.

Head of Antropology Department Strains Ligament by Accident.

During a severe coughing spell Wednesday afternoon in his office at the World's Fair, Dr. WJ McGee, chief of the antropological department, sustained a strained ligament and it is feared a broken rib. He was in consultation at the time with Gov. John G. Brady and Gov. Brady summoned Dr. Moore of the Exposition medical staff when Dr. McGee fainted from pain.

Dr. McGee recovered later and was driven to his home, 4139 Lindell boulevard, where he will be confined several days.

Mothers will find Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup the best remedy for their children.

WHAT A GRADUATED NURSE SAYS.

OCALA, FLA., Nov. 28, 1903.

It is with genuine pleasure I recommend Wine of Cardui to women suffering with the troubles peculiar to the sex. In my experience of over sixteen years I have never found anything which would so quickly restore young mothers to strength, nor do I know of any medicine better for a pregnant woman to take to induce easy childbirth, a healthy child and comfort to both mother and child. In my opinion Wine of Cardui is the best medicine for a woman suffering from ulceration, inflammation, falling of the womb or ovarian troubles, and I have known dozens of cases where women were advised by the doctors to submit to operations, but who were cured simply by taking Wine of Cardui a few months. In fact, my personal experience with this reliable remedy has been of such a satisfactory nature that I most gladly give you this unsolicited testimonial.

Mrs. James R. Willis

WINE OF CARDUI

Wine of Cardui is a help to women in every trial in life.

Painful periods, all-tired-out feeling, backache and headache, bearing down pains and nervousness are cured by this successful woman's medicine.

When childbirth is dangerous, when a mother's life seems to be in the balance, Wine of Cardui comes to the rescue.

Wine of Cardui is a medicine for every woman. Many hospitals have it on hand for continual use. It has made 1,500,000 cures. You want health and you can get it by following Mrs. Willis' advice when she says, take Wine of Cardui.

You can secure a $1.00 bottle of Wine of Cardui today from your druggist and take it in the privacy of your home.

$825,000 FOR MRS. C. L. FAIR'S HEIRS

NEW YORK, April 28.—It has just been learned that the terms of final settlement between the Fair estate and the heirs of Mrs. Charles L. Fair will entail a total payment to the Nelsons of New Jersey, representing Mrs. Fair's family, of nearly $775,000 exclusive of personal property estimated to be worth $50,000 or $60,000.

Besides this sum they will eventually receive approximately $100,000 additional. As they received $425,000 in September, 1902, their total inheritance amounts to nearly $775,000.

This final settlement is in accordance with an ironbound agreement which the Nelsons have signed not to offer any further obstacle to a complete and final settlement.

According to the same authority the James G. Fair millions will be distributed together with the Charles Fair estate, in San Francisco within two weeks.

Mrs. Oelrichs will leave for San Francisco this week to join her sister, Mrs. W. K. Vanderbilt, Jr., who, with her husband already have proceeded to the Pacific coast.

SAW BARS OF POLICE STATION.

Illinois Murder Suspect Escapes From St. Joseph Police.

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., April 28.—Roy Brom, charged with the murder of R. L. Roberts of Decatur, Ill., who was being held here for Illinois officers, and William Trasse, charged with highway robbery, made a sensational escape at midnight from the central police station here by sawing a bar from their cell and walking through the station corridors, a few feet from half a dozen policemen.

Saws and a file are believed to have been smuggled to them by friends. They have not been recaptured.

"I Kill Rats."

In the smoking compartment of the New York Sleeper, a group of men were chatting and exchanging business confidences. A particularly well groomed man on being asked what his business was, surprised the others by saying, "I kill rats." "Yes," he continued, "I kill more rats in one day than would fill this car, for I make Stearns' Electric Rat and Roach Paste, a sure death to rats, mice and other vermin. Rats and mice greedily eat it and run out of the house to die. Dealers generally sell this Paste, or a package will be sent express prepaid, on receipt of price by the Stearns' Electric Paste Co., Tribune Building, Chicago, Ill. The small size costs 25c; Hotel size, 8 times the quantity, $1.00."

SPRING FEVER AND MALARIA CURED BY TO-NI-TA

Mr. Max C. Eugene, the Talented Author of the Beautiful and Popular Melody, "Cupid's Garden," Was on the Verge of Collapse.

Serious Attack of Malaria, Influenza and Fever Cured by To-ni-ta, Dr. Lorentz's Spring Tonic and Bitters.

Mr. Max C. Eugene, the talented composer of the tuneful and catchy melody, "Cupid's Garden," is engaged in the composition of several other musical numbers, some of which would have been submitted for public approval ere now had he not been suffering from a serious attack of malaria, influenza and Spring fever.

"It was a case of both brain and body fag with me," he said to the reporter, "and the close of what had been a long and hard season found me pretty badly run down. To make matters worse, I was confronted with what threatened to prove a serious attack of Spring fever, malarial and bronchial trouble. I tried different medicines, but continued to grow worse, and was on the verge of collapse when a friend told me of the great curative powers of TO-NI-TA, the new and wonderful mucous membrane bitters discovered by Dr. Lorents.

"It had cured him, he said, so I decided to give it a trial, as my case was becoming critical. I had not much faith in the so called 'mighty healing power' of TO-NI-TA when I first commenced to take it, but my opinion soon underwent a change, and to my surprise I found that my suffering and disease were passing away, and in an incredibly short time I was restored to perfect health. TO-NI-TA certainly exercises a great power and influence in curing disease, and I am sure it saved me from an attack of serious sickness. It seems to penetrate every portion of the body with a subtle, healing and invigorating power, and for sick, weak, rundown and overworked men and women it is the greatest medicine in the world. Before taking TO-NI-TA I lost my appetite and could scarcely sleep. Now I eat heartily of anything I desire and enjoy my rest better than for years."

New York City, April 12, 1904.

Thousands of testimonials like the one from Mr. Eugene are received daily from men and women who were on the verge of nervous prostration from overwork, worry or disease, and who were made strong and well by TO-NI-TA. Dr. Lorents's wonderful tonic bitters. TO-NI-TA is made of roots and herbs and contains no cocaine, morphine or other dangerous drugs. It is an invigorating tonic and stimulant and blood purifier, and cures by driving the disease germs from the system. It tones and builds up the weak and worn nerves and tissues and restores the sufferer to a vigorous, healthy condition, no matter how weakened, run-down or sick you may be. At all druggists, or sent direct, $1 a bottle.

"The Beautiful Story of Life," Dr. Lorents's famous treatise, and medical advice free. Lorents Medical Co., Flatiron Building, New York.

TO-NI-TA is a tonic laxative. You need no pills or tablets. Beware of nostrums and patent medicines that constipate. They ruin the lining of the stomach and bowels. Ask your druggist for TO-NI-TA and refuse imitations and substitutes.

CROWNER OF FAIR SUES FOR SALARY

Cass Gilbert, Architect of Festival Hall, Says Professional Credit Was Withheld.

DESIGNERS WERE OVERRULED

Director Taylor Says Names of Members of Commission Will Be Placed on Buildings.

Cass Gilbert of New York, architect of Festival Hall and the Palace of Fine Arts at the World's Fair, has handed President Francis his resignation from the commission of architects and filed suit against the Exposition company in the United States Circuit Court for $47,113.96 salary alleged to be due, as told in late editions of Wednesday's Post-Dispatch. Mr. Gilbert states that but $21,386 of $78,500 due was paid him.

Mr. Gilbert further states in his letter to President Francis that the "meager sum" claimed was agreed on as his compensation on the consideration that he would receive further compensation in the form of publicity and credit for his work as the designer of certain buildings at the World's Fair. This, he counted, would add greatly to his reputation as an architect and be of great value to him.

He now charges that Director of Works Taylor has "seduiously concealed" the names of the architects in all World's Fair publications, so that the world at large cannot give credit to the proper men. Further, he says that, according to their letter of appointment, the architects were to have been consulted in regard to the grouping, color scheme and general arrangement of the World's Fair scheme, but that such confidence and privilege was not accorded them, as frequently their own designs were altered without their knowledge or approval.

President Francis stated that the general counsel of the Exposition was of the opinion that Mr. Gilbert had no legitimate basis for his claim, that he was paid an honorarium of $10,000 for the Fine Arts building, and that at his own request he was allowed to design Festival Hall, the compensation for the latter work to rest entirely with the committee.

Director Taylor disclaims any intention to ignore the architects, and states that their names are to be placed on the buildings as soon as practicable.

George C. Squires of New York, one of Mr. Gilbert's legal representatives, in reply to the statement that he had failed to keep appointments with President Francis to discuss Mr. Gilbert's claims, said today:

"As a matter of fact I was unable to obtain any definite appointment with President Francis. He told me to call at the exposition building at about 11 o'clock Tuesday morning. Owing to the bad condition of the roads my carriage was delayed and I did not reach the building until 11:15.

"I was told by Judge Ferriss that President Francis could not see me as I was late, but was requested to call the next day at 11 o'clock.

"Wednesday morning I started early and reached the Administration building nearly a half hour before the time appointed and, after waiting for some word from President Francis regarding the matter on which I had called (Mr. Gilbert's claim), for more than two hours, I returned to the city and instructed that the suit against the Exposition company be filed.

GOVERNOR OF COLORADO LEAVES FOR ST. LOUIS.

Governor and Mrs. James H. Peabody of Colorado and party, including a number of state officials, traveling in a special train, left Denver last night for the World's Fair.

TWO MORE TRIBES COMING; RATHER FIGHT THAN EAT.

Eternal vigilance will be the price of peace after the Moros and Bogobos are added to the aggregation of Philippine savages at the World's Fair.

The Moros especially, who will be here in a couple of days, are rated as bad men. They start a rough house on slight provocation. They would a little rather fight than eat. They will fight—about anything or nothing.

They will be kept separate from the other tribes and will be surrounded by a picket line of constabulary. If they must fight they will have to fight among themselves or with the constabulary.

On their arrival they will be quartered in the cuartel, where the Igorrotes are now, the latter moving over within their stockade.

DR. HUNT WATCHES SMOKE OF TOILING IGORROTE BAND.

"No smoke, no work," is the motto of the Igorrotes and Suyocs who are getting their village in shape inside the stockade on the Philippine reservation.

They are not heavy toilers at best. They talk a great deal and work a little, but they smoke most of all. They would count it a great imposition to be kept from smoking longer than a quarter of an hour.

Dr. Hunt let the natives go inside the stockade Thursday morning before he was ready to go over himself. When he arrived the smoke of seven or eight small campfires was curling among the branches of the trees. The wind was carrying sparks in the direction of the highly inflammable material, of which the native houses are constructed.

The fires were stamped out, and Dr. Hunt read the riot act in several dialects.

"How are we going to light our pipes?" asked the savages, as though the opportunity of lighting their pipes was compensation for every risk.

To avert a strike, Dr. Hunt sat on a stump the greater part of the day, smoking his own pipe, so that they could get "lights" whenever they wanted them.

F. H. Ingalls will close all day Saturday. Every employe is going to the Fair.

MRS. FOLK SAYS: "TOO EARLY"

Will Wait Until Husband Is Elected Governor Before Inviting Choral Club to Capital.

The Morning Choral of which Mrs. Joseph Folk is a prominent member in the soprano section, may sing in Jefferson City next year. At the luncheon of the Morning Choral Wednesday, a member suggested that "as the wife of the next governor of Missouri is now a club member in good standing and high official capacity, Mrs. Folk be duly instructed to extend a 'political promise' to her club that in view of their warmest and most tuneful support during the present campaign, she hold out to them the inducement and the privilege to lift up their voices from the gubernatorial balconies."

In reply Mrs. Folk said: "If it should happen that the people of Missouri choose my husband for their chief executive, why then you may be sure that the Morning Choral may sing as loudly and as often as it wish, but it is far too early to make any such plans."

"As a Spring Tonic Pe-ru-na Gets the System in Good Shape"

John W. Glenister, the Champion Swimmer of America, After Using Pe-ru-na for a Spring Tonic, Recommends It to Athletes.

Pe-ru-na for Spring Catarrh.

It Renovates, Regulates and Restores a System Depleted By Catarrh.

ITS CURES ARE PERMANENT.

"I Advise All Athletes Who Are About to Go In Training to Try a Bottle of Pe-ru-na."

John W. Glenister of Providence, R. I., is champion long distance swimmer of America. Mr. Glenister is a well-known long distance swimmer, having performed some notable feats in this country and England. Mr. Glenister has used Peruna as a tonic and gives his opinion of it in the following letter:

New York.

The Peruna Medicine Company, Columbus, Ohio:

Gentlemen:—"This spring for the first time I have taken two bottles of Peruna, and, as it has done me a great deal of good, I feel as if I ought to say a good word for its worth. During the springtime for the last few years, I have taken several kinds of spring tonics, and have never received any benefit whatever. This year through the advice of a friend I tried Peruna and it has given satisfaction. I advise all athletes who are about to go in training to try a bottle, for it certainly gets the system in good shape." Yours truly, JOHN W. GLENISTER.

A tonic is a medicine that gives tone to some part of the system. There are different kinds of tonics, but the tonic most needed in this country, where catarrh is so prevalent, is a tonic that operates on the mucous membranes.

Peruna has no rivals, no substitutes. There is but one scientific, systemic catarrh remedy, and that is Peruna.

PRESIDENT ATHLETIC CLUB SAYS:

"I Thank Pe-ru-na for the Magnificent Health I Enjoy."

Herbert Lundberg, 235 East 123rd street New York City, President Harlem Athletic club, writes:

"It will probably interest you to know that I thank Peruna for the magnificent health I enjoy. If I am ever under the weather, get over-worked or suffer from a cold, the use of Peruna for a day or two quickly restores me. Several members of our athletic club have had the most gratifying results through its use, especially so during the late epidemic of la grippe. Several of them were completely cured and restored to perfect health."—Herbert Lundberg.

The muscles depend upon the nerve centers for their strength. The nerve centers become exhausted and weak. With weak nerve centers, the muscles become flabby and no amount of training can develop them. Thus it is that strong muscles depend upon healthy nerve centers. Healthy nerve centers depend upon good digestion. Good digestion depends upon clean mucous membranes, free from catarrh.

No man troubled with internal catarrh can ever become an athlete.

Peruna is not a flashy, quick-acting stimulus. It is a slow, sure, natural invigorator. A course of Peruna is as sure to bring a renewal of vital powers as the spring time is to bring buds and blossoms.

Catarrh destroys the appetite, weakens the digestive powers, depletes the nerve centers and the whole human system sympathizes. Complete physical demoralization follows. Life becomes a burden and a bore.

Athletes use Peruna, not as a temporary stimulus to tide them over some ordeal or sudden emergency, but as a lasting invigoration. It is a tonic that reaches the cause of all weakness, the organs of nutrition.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case, and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, Ohio.

A PROMINENT ATHLETE GIVES A GLOWING TRIBUTE TO PE-RU-NA.

PROFESSOR JOHN W. GLENISTER.

Many Well-Known Athletes Use Pe-ru-na as a Tonic, among which are College Men and Professional Athletes.

RIVER CREEPS UP---TO BEGIN RECEDING SOON

Rate of Rising Is One-Fifth of an Inch an Hour, and Crest Is Expected to Be Reached Friday at About Thirty-Four Feet.

BREAK IN CONLOGUE TRACK ENGULFS NEGRO SETTLEMENT

Venice Partially Deserted—High Water in the Upper Mississippi Delays the Local Effect of the Missouri's Subsidence.

The Mississippi continues to rise very gradually, the rate this morning being slightly over one-fifth of an inch an hour against half an inch an hour Wednesday. The stage at noon today was 32.2 feet, against 32.8 at 5 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, a total rise in 19 hours of 3.6 inches. The river is now three feet above the danger line, and five feet lower than the maximum stage reached in June, 1903. It is nearly 10 inches below the forecasted crest of the present rise, a fraction less than 34 feet, which the weather bureau will be reached Friday.

The rise during the past 24 hours has been 6 inches, and the total rise since Sunday a little over 10 feet 9 inches.

The second day of fair weather and sunshine and a decided slackening in the river's rate of rising, made the situation Thursday morning encouraging. Fear of excessive damage by the high water is practically removed.

The stage at midnight was 32.9 feet, against 32.6 feet Tuesday morning. The rising of the Mississippi at Hannibal, and the slow rising of the Illinois at Beardstown will probably match the fall in the Missouri and keep the river at its present high stage for another 24 hours. The official forecast says the crest will be reached with the 34 foot stage, a rise of 10.4 feet from Sunday's stage.

A railway embankment, known as the Conlogue road, running parallel with the Mobile & Ohio tracks, has been broken in two places, flooding Rush City, a section of East St. Louis, inhabited by negroes. The break was caused by backwater from Cahokia creek. In parts of Rush City the water stands six feet deep. As a result of these breaks, also, the Mobile & Ohio embankment, just south of Conlogue, has been pronounced unsafe and trains of that road are entering East St. Louis over the Conlogue tracks.

If the Conlogue embankment is inundated, the road will be tied up. The district known as Bloody Island is also flooded, but there has been no appeals for aid.

At Venice a sewer near the Merchants' bridge is again leaking, but it is believed it will be soon under control. The high water at Alton has caused several factories to keep pumps going night and day in order to prevent their being flooded. The section of the city below the glass plant, known as "The Willows," is inundated.

Preparations for fighting a further rise of the water in East St. Louis continue.

The family of Sam Willams, living in a houseboat near West Alton, had a narrow escape from drowning Wednesday morning. The houseboat was on stilts, and before it could be moved, was tipped over by rising water. The occupants escaped in a skiff. Farm lands near West Alton are flooded, and farmers may lose many cattle if the water rises a few inches higher. Farms on Missouri Point, opposite Alton, are inundated.

NO TOY PISTOLS FOR THE FOURTH

Chicago City Council Takes Steps to Bar the Deadly Noisemaker in Future Celebrations.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

CHICAGO, April 28.—Behind an order passed by the city council today for the appointment of a committee for an official celebration of July 4, and the suppression of the toy pistol and the dynamite cracker, is a plan for the formation of a big amusement organization to take charge of future Chicago celebrations.

It is to be incorporated as soon as Mayor Harrison shall have named the special committee for Independence day, and the latter celebration is to be the first of a series of entertainments so conducted that human life and property will not be endangered by the small boy or the fool parent.

The organization is to be known as the Chicago Amusement Association. Col. George Fabian is the leading spirit. It is to be capitalized for $1,000,000, the shares of stock being nonassessable and nondividend bearing.

It is expected that the first issue of shares will consist of $50,000 at $5 and 250,000 at $1. Many merchants favor the plan, as it will relieve them from additional assessments, nearly always made for public festivals and celebrations.

For the coming celebration of Independence day $40,000 is to be spent for fireworks. Against this expenditure will be placed the saving of a vast deal of property by fires and explosions. It is the purpose to give a magnificent display of fireworks on the lake front.

The petition submitted by the mayor to the council today was signed by 305 prominent wholesale and retail merchants. The latter asked that committees composed of representatives of every legitimate calling be appointed to prepare a Fourth of July program to minimize danger to the small boy.

F. H. Ingalls will close all day Saturday. Every employe is going to the Fair.

ROCKEFELLER LIKES THE COUNTRY BOYS

NEW YORK, April 28.—John D. Rockefeller dropped into the Fifth Avenue Baptist Church Sunday towards the close of his son's address. At the end of the session he entered the lecture room and greeted each member.

"I want to see you young men from the country," he said. "Of course, I like the city young man, but those from the country appeal to me more. I think it is because I came from the country myself.

"The boy that is brought up in the country is nearer nature. The city chap may know more of the world, but it is not the knowledge that benefits him, and he is far better without it. Now, the country boy in the long run generally gets ahead of the citybred boy."

ROOSEVELT'S BLUFF CALLED; CRUM SHELVED

Senator Cockrell's Motion to Postpone Vote Until Next Session Prevails and Extraordinary Sessions Will Avail Nothing for Negro Aspirant.

PRESIDENT'S POSITION EXTREMELY EMBARRASSING

Senator Gorman, Asking for Senator Tillman, Led Opposition and Was Given Assistance by a Number of Conservative Republicans.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGITON, April 28.—The Senate promptly called President Roosevelt's bluff that he will call that body in extraordinary session if the nomination of W. D. Crum, a negro, as collector of customs at Charleston, S. C., be not confirmed.

The Crum case was taken up in executive session. After a full discussion, in which Senators Spooner, Aldrich, Hale and Gallinger, all Republicans, advocated the confirmation of Crum, and Senators Gorman, Daniel, Clay and Lattimer opposed it, Senator Cockrell of Missouri settled the whole matter by moving that no action be taken on the nomination until the next session of Congress. This motion was adopted and the Crum case was wiped off the slate so far as the present session or an extraordinary session is concerned.

If the President does call the Senate into extraordinary session to consider the Crum case the Senate will meet in pursuance to the call and calmly adjourn sine die without action. And, it is stated, the President can keep calling extraordinary sessions until he is black in the face with no other results. The Senate has decided to put Crum over until December and that is all there is to it whether the President rages or not.

Senator Gorman led the opposition to action on the Crum nomination, acting for Senator Tillman, who is absent at his home in South Carolina, where he is detained by illness. This was a good political stroke for Gorman, if he has any lingering hopes that he may be a possibility for the presidential nomination before the Democratic national convention, as it will help him in the South.

SEC. STEVENS WAS "RUSTI"

Neither Could His Assistant Recall "Rusty," but Sid Ali Rusti Got Pass.

"Thompson," said Secretary Stevens to his assistant, "who is Sid Ali Rusti?"

"Rusty?" murmured Collins Thompson wonderingly. "Don't believe I know him."

"Yes, you do," Mr. Stevens continued. "Isn't he the fellow who was with Langerman?"

"No," replied Thompson; "his name was Dougherty."

"Oh, I mean the native of Morroco that led Langerman's horse around the grounds."

"Can't remember that name 'Rusty' at all," Thompson said.

"Well," and Mr. Stevens paused, "Mr. Rusty gets his pass, anyhow, because it is properly certified by his department."

MASTER OF SMITH HONORED.

Former Academy Boys Celebrate Principal's Silver Jubilee.

Nearly 100 members of the Smith Academy Alumni Association attended a banquet given Wednesday evening at the Washington Hotel in honor of the twenty-fifth anniversary of Prof. Charles P. Curd's connection with Smith Academy as teacher and principal. Perry Post Taylor, president of the association, presided, and the speakers were Harry B. Wallace, Christopher Ellerbe, Jr., L. Ray Carpenter, Luther E. Smith, Joseph W. Lewis, Douglas W. Robert and W. S. Chapin.

Engrossed resolutions praising his accomplishments were presented to Prof. Curd and a large bouquet of American Beauties was presented to Mrs. Curd. The beginning of work on the academy's new buildings on Von Versen avenue was announced at the banquet.

F. H. Ingalls will close all day Saturday. Every employe is going to the Fair.

FRUITS OF GENIUS LOST.

Investor's Self-Inflicted Death Caused by a Patent.

Otto Schmidt, aged 43, shot and killed himself Wednesday afternoon in the presence of his wife and daughter, at his home, 5530 Waterman avenue, as the result of despondency brought on by brooding over the loss of his share in the profits of an invention some years ago.

He claimed the right to the patent on a profitable device for breaking street-car rails in tearing up unused tracks, and believed himself cheated of his rights.

Important Change in Schedule.

Weil Is Back in Union.

Bandmaster William Weil has paid the piper, or in other words the musicians' union, a fine of $100, has agreed to conform to union rules, and will be allowed to complete his arrangements for paying on opening day and during the World's Fair with the support of the local organization. Alleged discrimination against St. Louis players was made the basis of Mr. Weil's expulsion recently, but on his payment of the fine Wednesday he was reinstated in good standing.

No Cars on Saturday.

No more cars of exhibits or any materials will be received at the World's Fair after 6 o'clock Thursday night until after midnight Saturday. At 6 o'clock Thursday morning there were 238 cars of exhibits, 77 cars of construction material, 80 cars of coal and 90 empties on the World's Fair tracks. These will be disposed of before Saturday morning, in order to have the

CAUTION!

Since medical science has recently acknowledged that all diseases are caused by germs and microbes in the blood the market has been flooded with preparations—so-called "germ destroyers"—to be taken internally, and claimed to be "harmless to the tissues of the body." The public is warned that Wm. Radam discovered the ONLY PRINCIPLE THAT WILL DESTROY DISEASE GERMS IN THE BLOOD WITHOUT INJURY TO THE BODY, and it has been so recognized all over the civilized world—being known and used for nearly twenty years in millions of homes as Radam's Microbe Killer. There is nothing like it on the market. There are many worthless imitations. DON'T BE DECEIVED. DON'T TAKE ANY CHANCES. YOUR HEALTH IS PRICELESS. Use the original and genuine Radam's Microbe Killer. It is known to be absolutely SAFE. It cures all germ diseases to stay cured. You drink it. Large 40-ounce bottle $1.00. Your druggist will supply you; if not, write us. Sample and Booklet free.

Two Weeks for Francis Wilson In "Erminie"

The first of the special theatrical engagements on account of the Fair opens at the Olympic Theater next Monday night, when Francis Wilson will begin a two weeks' run in "Erminie." There has been but one extra-week engagement at a St. Louis theater this season, and that in the case of "Mr. Bluebeard," which ran a fortnight at the Century Theater last November.

Mr. Mansfield put "Ivan the Terrible" back in his sarcophagus last night—at least so far as St. Louis is concerned. We are not sorry. Much as we want to see great acting, we are not willing to follow Mr. Mansfield with any enthusiasm to such hideous length as Ivan, any more than we want to affiliate with Sir Henry Irving's Shylock. They are great make-ups, these Ivans and Shylocks or Mansfield and Irving, but they are too horrible. We are trying as hard as we can to become an esthetic people, and Mr. Mansfield and Sir Henry Irving are not helping us a bit. Tonight Mr. Mansfield will repeat the delightful "Old Heidelberg," and tomorrow night he will play "Beau Brumel." The sale has been very heavy for his single performance of "Dr. Jekyl and Mr. Hyde" Saturday night—heavier, in fact, than for any other performance of the engagement.

Now that I have seen "Ivan the Terrible," I cannot share Mr. Mansfield's expressed belief that the Tolstoi tragedy is to serve him as the chief play in his repertoire next season. So far as I am able to judge, Ivan is doomed as a play. At least, it would be true of it did it rely upon the West for any considerable portion of its success. It is hard to believe that any part or element of the American people would embrace it with enough warmth to make it a popular play. New York may do it, but the West never would, not even though the performance possessed the added merit of setting the Mansfield characterization of Ivan into a strong story as opposed to the plotless sketch in which we have seen it this week. Maybe we are to inclined to the cheerful out in this sun-bathed West. Maybe the fields are too green and the skies too blue, and maybe we are closer to nature and love better the things that are ennobling and beautiful. However it is, we don't like this "Ivan the Terrible" sort of thing. Not that we go in for nothing but fun, for we like pathos when it is the sort we see in "Old Heidelberg." But there is a great gulf dividing the pathos of the Heidelberg show from the pictured horrors of the Tolstoi play, and it is into that gulf "Ivan the Terrible" will fall, to be heard of nevermore.

Emerson McMillan, a former St. Louisan now in New York, has joined in the movement for a national theater in America. At a meeting of the National Art Theater Society in New York this week, Mr. McMillan arose and declared that he would be one of a hundred New Yorkers to give $50,000 to such an institution, and he subsequently declared that if the other ninety-nine can be found, he will increase his gift to $100,000.

Lawrence D'Orsey is doing a very good business at the Century in "The Earl of Pawtucket." There are some empty seats, which is not as it should be, for "The Earl of Pawtucket" is a treat—unqualifiedly, from any point of view.

The new management and proprietorship of the Odeon comes forward Sunday night with a two-week's season of grand opera in English by a strictly American grand opera company.

This ought to be a welcome announcement in that American companies singing in our native tongue the masterpieces of lyric art, have, of late, been few and far between. The Rose Cecelia Shay Grand Opra Company is a Cincinnati institution, financed by Cincinnatians and headed and managed by a Cincinnati girl, Rose Cicelia Shay, the clever daughter of Judge Shay of Cincinnati. Her brilliant singing two years ago in European countries was much talked about. This is but her second season at the head of her own company.

"Carmen" is the opening bill Sunday night. In Bizet's work Miss Shay will give her listeners a new idea of the title role. The prevailing interpretation is that of a French coquette instead of a Spanish flirt. Miss Shay depicts the fateful girl as wilful, spiteful and heartless. An abandoned creature, if you will, disregardful of social convention, filled with passionate love, burning hatred and fatalistic fear, but with it all there is nothing coarse in Miss Shay's presentation of Carmen. Vocally, the part is said to fit the young prima donna better than any other in her varied repertoire. The score gives her ample opportunity to reveal the rich and resonant notes of the lower register, which have been highly regarded by eminent judges as among the most effective among the more youthful prima donnas of the day. Mr. Fredericks will appear as Don Jose, and all the other characters will be in adequate vocal keeping. A large chorus, well drilled, assists the principals and a well selected orchestra, under the direction of Signor Carle Nicosia, will do justice to Bizet's famous score.

Other operas in the repertoire are "Il Trovatore," "Faust," "Bohemian Girl," "Cavalleria Rusticana" and "I Pagliacci." "La Boheme" is underlined as a special offering for the St. Louis engagement. The company arrives Sunday morning.

Delmar Garden will throw open its doors to World's Fair visitors and home patrons Sunday, May 1. A few days of pleasant weather is all that is needed to make the big resort just across the Skinker road from the World's Fair grounds one of the pleasantest places in the city. Delmar will have many attractions. As soon as the work can be completed there will be the big spectacular production of "Louisiana" in the theater; there will be a big captive baloon, a wild West show of 50 Indians and other features.

The chief love interest in the dramatization of the well-known New England novel, "Quincy Adams Sawyer," is the strong admiration of young Sawyer, the city fellow and son of a millionaire, for Alice Pettengill, a blind girl. It was a good deal of a question when the dramatization was made as to whether the public would be in sympathy with such peculiar courtship, and the dramatist seriously thought of getting away from the book in this respect by having Sawyer in love with Lindy Putnam. It was finally decided, however, to follow the book, and those who witness a performance at Crawford's Theater, where it is booked for a run, will realize what a mistake it would have been not to have made a great deal of the love story between the blind girl, Alice Pettengill, and Quincy Adams Sawyer. The engagement begins Sunday, May 1.

Gold Medal in Squad Drill.

A gold medal has been presented to Company A, St. Louis University Cadets, of which L. B. Betz is captain, as a result of a competitive squad drill held Wednesday afternoon on the campus of the university. Inspection of companies, followed by an individual competitive drill, will take place tomorrow morning under the supervision of G. H. Gale, inspector-general of the Northern Division of the National Guards.

HAWES HAS ENOUGH; TURNS TO PROPHECY

Abandons Active Canvass and Will Support Folk If Latter Is Nominated.

BANDWAGON NOT FOR HIM

Circuit Attorney's Supporters Warned That Disenchantment Awaits Them.

Harry B. Hawes has abandoned the effort to secure further delegates favoring his nomination for governor, and states his reasons. He says he will go into the state convention outside the band wagon, and refusing to turn his 111 St. Louis votes to Circuit Attorney Folk, whom he will support, however, in case of his nomination.

Mr. Hawes defends his effort to secure support among the rural Democrats by the statement that a man should be known and judged by his neighbors, and that having secured the endorsement of St. Louis Democrats at "peaceful and orderly" primaries, he presumed to ask for the support of the state Democracy.

He attributes his failure to carry any county to the declaration that the rural Democrat is supporting the "ideal and imaginary" Mr. Folk instead of the real Mr. Folk, and says that rather than get into the bandwagon now he prefers to be a prophet. His prophesy is that Mr. Folk will disappoint his supporters, especially his Republican friends.

Mr. Hawes further attributes his failure among rural Democrats to his inability to draw Mr. Folk into a joint debate. The people, he says, were prejudiced, and not willing to hear any side but Mr. Folk's.

Nevertheless, declares Mr. Hawes, he expects to support Mr. Folk in case of the latter's nomination, because he believes in majority rule, and because Mr. Folk at Hillsboro promised to support Hawes if Hawes should be nominated.

CROW WANTS RE-ELECTION, NOT AFTER FOLK'S CHANCE.

Attorney-General Edward C. Crow will make a formal announcement within a few days that he is a candidate for renomination to succeed himself.

Mr. Crow has received invitations to deliver an address from various parts of the state, but just where or when he will make his opening speech has not been decided.

It is understood Mr. Crow will not conduct a strenuous canvass for renomination, as he does not feel that he can spare the time or the money so to do.

He will, however, address a number of meetings and outline in a forcible way his ideas on the issues of the campaigns.

Incidentally, the attorney-general will take a rap at the Dockery administration because of favoritism shown to public service corporations in the state board of equalization.

He will draw attention to the existence of many monopolistic evils, which the people and the courts must curb.

He will declare boodle is an issue.

The rumor that Circuit Attorney Joseph W. Folk would be boomed for the presidency and that Mr. Crow would step into his shoes as a state candidate is deemed unworthy of consideration by those closely acquainted with the present political situation.

"Mr. Folk has won the fight for the gubernatorial nomination," said a politician Thursday, "and he would disappoint his friends if he now consented to seek other honors. He is sure of the governorship but he has no assurance that he would be elected President of the United States.

"There are plenty of things Mr. Folk can do as governor of Missouri, and as for the presidency, let him wait four years."

PEANUT BELT IS MOVING NORTHWARD

Missouri Is Already Experimenting With Goober Plants, Which Are Becoming Hardier.

COLUMBIA, Mo., April 28.—The increasing hardiness of the peanut plant is making its profitable cultivation possible in states where Indian corn is grown. From a plant indigenous to a warm climate, it is being transformed into a hardy northern plant, and in a year it will probably be grown in many states where heretofore it has been considered impossible.

It is believed by the faculty of the Missouri Agricultural College that many counties in this state are adapted to the cultivation of the peanut. The fact that many Missouri gardeners grow peanuts in small quantities for their own use is a practical demonstration of the theory.

In the botanical world the peanut occupies a unique position. Like a few other cultivated plants it never has been found wild, and there are differing views as to its native country. Most authorities, however, agree that it is a native of America. Its habit of clinging close to the soil, closing its leaves at sunset, or on the approach of a storm, the beautiful appearance of a field of it when full grown and the wartlike excrescences found upon the roots, are some notable characteristics.

A warm, loose soil in which sand predominates is required for the peanut. The color of the soil should be gray, with few or no traces of iron to stain or color the pods. Any land that will produce corn at the rate of five or ten bushels an acre will yield 75 to 80 bushels of peanuts to the acre.

The critical period in peanut culture is the week after the seeds are planted, before the plant will hold its own, and while cold winds and rain may retard its growth and cause the plant to turn yellow, it will start anew at the first spell of sunny weather and rapidly change to its normal green. A very slight frost will destroy the germinating plant.

NECKERCHIEF A DEADLY NOOSE

Little Boy Hanged Himself to a Tree While at Play.

VINELAND, N. J., April 28.—Curtis, the 4-year-old son of Councilman Cuno Becker, was playing upon a pile of wood in sight of his father's Landis avenue store this afternoon. In some way the little fellow slipped and fell against a tree at the end of the wood-pile. A handkerchief about his neck caught about a knot in the tree and held the child suspended, with his feet within a few inches of the wood.

A passer-by called attention to the odd sight of the hanging lad, and he was at once released, but there was no sign of life. Physicians worked an hour trying to restore life to the little form, but they were unsuccessful.

The Wabash Line

Will sell tickets for World's Fair opening at rate of one fare for round trip (Danville $5), from Danville, Moberly and intermediate stations, for trains leaving stations afternoon of Friday, April 29, and subsequent trains arriving in St. Louis prior to noon Saturday, April 30, returning by all trains, including Sunday, May 1.

WOMAN ROBBED IN HOTEL

Wife of World's Fair Chief Loses $400 Diamond Locket—Two Housemen Are Arrested.

Thieves entered the rooms of Mrs. M. Hulburt, wife of the chief of manufacturers' exhibits at the World's Fair, in the Lorraine Hotel, 4364 Lindell boulevard, Wednesday afternoon while Mrs. Hulburt was absent, and stole jewelry valued at $400, including a heart-shaped diamond sunburst and a lady's open-faced watch.

Jerry Creighton, 24 years of age, and John Wilmer, housemen employed in the hotel, have been arrested.

To Receive Medals in June.

At the elocutionary contest in the college department of St. Louis University, held Wednesday night, Richard Prendergast was awarded the gold medal, while a similar honor was conferred on Francis C. Cornet in the academic department. The prizes will be given at the annual commencement exercises in June. T. Clement Lonergan won the second prize in the college department, William J. Tucker and Norbert W. Hunicke tied for second place in the academic department. Besides the winners, those in the college department contest were: C. W. Eckert, R. A. Kinsella, F. R. Lafferty, Daniel Dillon and Andrew F. Drew; in the academic department, S. L. Garvey, J. F. Lilly, T. M. Knapp, J. E. Darst and W. P. Little. The judges were Dr. Young H. Bond, James W. Byrne and George Bakewell.

Screams Frightened "Burglars."

Startled by the sudden appearance of men peering in at the window, a number of young women at the home of Mrs. Anna Parks, 1007 Walton avenue, Wednesday evening, quickly summoned help, but the intruders noticing the commotion disappeared. When the police arrived they found a ladder erected to the second story of the building.

NEW BOND TO RESTORE PARK SENT TO MAYOR

Council Will Receive at Friday Night's Meeting Official Document Signed by Pres. Francis and Sec'y. Stevens, Pledging $550,000.

CLAIM PREFERRED BEFORE STOCKHOLDERS' OBLIGATION

Mayor Wells, If Bond Is Not Approved, Will Collect Documents Showing His Position for Information of the Public.

The new bond to be furnished by the World's Fair management to secure the city in the restoration of Forest Park after the Exposition period was received at the mayor's office Thursday morning and will be presented to the council at its meeting Friday night.

The bond is signed by President Francis and Secretary Stevens. It is interpreted at the City Hall as a promise of the Exposition company to pay $550,000 for park restoration, without definite security.

After the preamble, the bond states that to secure the faithful performance of the foregoing obligation, as stipulated in ordinance No. 20,412, approved May 16, 1901, the Louisiana Exposition Co. obligates and binds itself to set apart and appropriate from its revenue, after making due provision for the payment of existing obligations and those to accrue hereafter, and before the payment of any dividends to stockholders, the sum of $550,000 as security for the faithful performance of the obligation.

It is specified that the money shall be used for no other purpose than that of restoring the park under the direction of the Board of Public Improvements, and that should less than that amount be needed, the balance shall revert to the Exposition company.

Should the Fair fail to comply with the ordinance, the total sum of $550,000 shall become the absolute property of the city.

Mayor Wells, who is to take part in the reception of Prince Pu Lun Thursday afternoon, said he would not take up the consideration of approving or disapproving the bond until Friday.

In a letter to Mayor Wells submitting the bond, General Counsel Franklin Ferriss said that in the event of the bond not meeting the approval of the mayor and the council, or of any difficulty regarding its wording, he requested an opportunity to be heard.

Mayor Wells said Thursday morning that should he, after consideration Friday, be unable to approve of the bond, he would prepare all the correspondence on the subject and other data bearing upon it, and would send it to the council, with the view to having it spread upon the journal of the council, so that his position in the matter would become a matter of public record.

NEGROES ONLY PART WHITE

Dr. Elbridge's Bleaching Machine Burned When Six Patients Were Only Half Treated.

PHILADELPHIA, April 28.—Science received a setback yesterday when the apparatus by which Dr. Thomas A. Elbridge "turns negroes white" was destroyed by fire. The laboratory was totally burned, and six negroes who were undergoing the bleaching process were left disconsolate in a condition of "dermatological suspense."

Dr. Elbridge has been conducting experiments for turning black men into blonds so far as the color of their skins is concerned. The bleaching is done by throwing an X-ray light through radium, thereby destroying the pigment of the skin and changing complexions of tar and ebony into Adonis-like ivory and rose.

Thus far the experiments have promised the happiest results. The negroes have reached the stage where the dark color was fading in patches and a singular checkered effect was achieved. In a few weeks they were prepared to take up the white man's burden.

Now, however, as a result of the fire, they are obliged to wait like a bunch of damaged Scotch plaids on a remnant counter until the burned aparatus can be replaced. This may be a matter of weeks.

There is reason to believe that ultimately the experiment will be successful, and great interest is manifested not only in scientific circles, but by the general public as well.

FOUR INDIAN MAIDENS ARRIVE AT THE FAIR.

Four Indian maidens have arrived at the Indian school building for the World's Fair. They are Lizzie Antone of Sapulpa, I. T.; an Oneida; Ona Dodson of Bartelsville, I. T., a Cherokee; Etta Loafman of South McAlester, I. T., a Chippewa, and Helen Mitchell of South McAlester, a Cherokee.

Education and association have left them little appearance of the tribes which they represent, but they are American Indian maidens, and proud of their ancestry.

The girls arrived in the care of Mrs. McCowan, wife of Dr. S. M. McCowan, superintendent of the World's Fair Indian School. They came from the Chilocco, O. T., Industrial School, of which Dr. McCowan is also superintendent. They will assist, under the direction of Mrs. McCowan, in getting the interior of the Indian school building ready for World's Fair guests.

All four are taking courses of instruction at the Chilocco institution, and all will graduate next year. They are bright and attractive girls, who have been won away from almost everything tribal except tribal pride.

They will be at the building until the close of the Fair, and will continue their studies during the summer.

Things will begin to liven up rapidly at the Indian building within the next few days. The Government Indian band from Chilocco will arrive Thursday evening, and representatives of various tribes are on their way or about to start.

NO PROSECUTION OF MERGER PROMOTERS

WASHINGTON, April 28.—In a communication to the House Attorney-General Knox states that no criminal proceedings have been instituted against the promoters of the securities merger, and, he adds, "further than this I do not deem it compatible to comply with the resolution."

The communication was sent in response to resolutions inquiring what steps he had taken for the prosecution of Northern Securities promoters and what had been done in the matter of the so-called anthracite coal trust.

As to the latter the attorney-general says:

I have the honor to say that during the time of the anthracite coal strike the department of justice began an investigation for the purpose of determining whether the anthracite coal business was conducted through a commission or conspiracy in in violation of the antitrust act of 1890. This investigation had not proceeded far until I discovered that if such a commission existed the evidence of its existence had been adroitly concealed, and that if it was to be established would largely depend on the government's ability to secure evidence of a chain of circumstances which, in the aggregate, would establish a commission.

I opened up the subject through a representative of the department of justice with the representative of the interstate commerce commission as to the advisability of the interstate commerce commission making an investigation into the general question as to whether the anthracite coal roads were engaged in pooling, charging exorbitant rates for the transportation of coal, preventing the coal from reaching its natural markets.

About this time a complaint was made before the interstate commerce commission raising the questions above referred to. During the progress of the hearing before the committee upon this complaint, several witnesses refused to produce papers and answer questions.

Under the direction of the attorney-general, proceedings were begun in the United States Circuit Court in New York for the purpose of compelling the coal companies to produce papers and answer questions. The court dismissed the petition, whereupon appeal was taken by the United States under the act of Feb. 19, 1903, directly to the Supreme Court of the United States. This appeal was decided in favor of the powers of the commission to compel the production of the testimony, and, as I am informed, the commission is about to renew the hearing, which, when completed, will lay before the department of justice.

LARGE BEQUEST REFUSED.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

KENOSHA, Wis., April 28.—The missionary society of the Methodist Episcopal Church has declined to accept the bequest of the late Willis W. Cooper, a victim of the Iroquois Theater fire at Chicago.

At the time of Mr. Cooper's death much criticism was made by members of the Methodist Church because he had been attending an extravaganza at a theater. Many said that religious organizations should not accept any bequest from him. It is not known whether this has influenced the society in rejecting the gift.

The total of Mr. Cooper's estate is estimated at $150,000, which was to be divided between the Methodist Church and the Lawrence University of Appleton. The latter may also refuse to accept the bequest.

TAYLOR IS CHOSEN TO PITCH AGAINST REDS AT LEAGUE PARK

Corbett Is Suffering From the Grip—Cardinals and Cincinnatians Will Line Up This Afternoon for the Opening Game of Their Series.

It was announced Tuesday morning that Joe Corbett was not a pitching possibility for the Cardinals in their opening tilt with the Cincinnati Reds at League Park this afternoon.

Corbett has developed a slight attack of the grip, and it has taken a fancy to one of his eyes. The left one is somewhat inflamed, and he will probably not be in shape to do any good twirling for several days.

The Cardinals arrived from Pittsburg for the opening game last night, and the Cincinnati Reds came in from Chicago early this morning.

Manager Nichols announced this morning that in view of Corbett's illness, Taylor would probably pitch the opening game. The latter is in good shape, and, with even breaks, should have a good chance to beat the Reds.

Manager Kelley's team is somewhat crippled. Three of the regulars are out of the game. Third Baseman Steinfeldt is sick and Outfielders Seymour and Dolan are laid up with injuries received in games. Kelley stated that probably Walker would pitch this afternoon's game, with Schiel as backstop.

Jack Harper, ex-Brown pitcher, will be in center field for the Reds this afternoon.

Manager Nichols laughed at the story that he and Stanley Robison had quarreled over the question of announcing every evening the battery for the following day.

"As a matter of fact there are, as Mr. Robison says, many good points about the idea," said the chieftain of the Babes, "but the plan is hardly practicable. It would be a very good thing from an advertising standpoint to let all the fans know positively in the early papers who would be in the points for each team. Then they would be able to tell when a good pitchers' battle was in sight. But from the standpoint of the manager it is scarcely possible to tell with any degree of certainty. I may be certain in the evening that I am going to pitch, say Corbett, for instance, and the next day in the warm up he may not be feeling well; his control is poor or his speed off, and it is necessary to send in some other man. I think Mr. Robison's idea is a good one if it were possible, but it is not."

Gov. Dockery's Appointments.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., April 28.—Governor Dockery to-day reappointed William H. Utz to be members of the Board of Police Commissioners for the city of St. Joseph for a term of three years from April 28, 1904. The governor also reappointed M. P. Cayce of Farmington and Thomas Higginbotham of Blackwell members of the board of managers for the State Hospital for Insane, No. 4, at Farmington, each for a term of three years from April 28, 1904.

QUICK WIT SAVED MANY LIVES

An Engineer Saw a Runaway Log Train Dashing Down Mountain, So He Ran Away From It.

GALETON, Pa., April 28.—One hundred passengers on a Buffalo & Susquehanna express train were saved from death by the prompt action of Engineer William Darbyshire, who was taking the passenger train north from this place. About six miles from here is what is known as Newfield hill, and the incline is exceptionally steep. When the passenger train had got within a half mile of the top Engineer Darbyshire saw a runaway log train coming down the hill on the same track at a terrific rate of speed.

Sizing up the situation instantly, he started his train backward down the hill again, and by the time the freight cars were ready to collide with his train the passenger train had acquired about the same rate of speed as the runaway, and when they came together only a slight jar was noticeable.

When the trains were brought to a standstill the passengers first learned of their danger.

En Route to Fair With Fish.

LEADVILLE, Colo., April 28.—W. H. Hancock of the United States fish commission left here yesterday for St. Louis, taking with him 14 cans containing 50 fishes, consisting of native, eastern-brook, lock leven and lake trout and grayling. The fish will run in size from eight inches to four pounds. In addition to the live fish, Mr. Hancock takes 20,000 trout eggs, 15,000 of brook and 5000 of rainbow. The fish and eggs will be placed on exhibition at the World's Fair.

SLEEP, NOT DEATH, FOR SOLDIERS

Hungarian Inventor Proposed to Manufacture Shells That Will Make Gen. Sherman's Remarks Obsolete.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

LONDON, April 28.—War is hell, said Gen. Sherman. A Hungarian benefactor of the species, however, has invented a means for making it truly humane—without its guilt, and with only 25 per cent of its danger, as Mr. Jorrocks observed in hunting.

This amiable genius, whose experience of war dates back to the Austrian campaigns against France in 1859 and against Prussia in 1866, has hit, he declares, on a solution of the problem of making military omelettes without breaking eggs.

He has invented a new kind of shell, which on bursting liberates a gas warranted to incapacitate all who breathe it, without producing any permanently serious effects. A single shell of the kind, bursting between the decks of a warship, would convert it into the palace of the Sleeping Beauty; only when the crew recovered they would find themselves laid up in a hostile port.

A regiment thus put out of action would be none the worse in a few days, but they would need to give parole not to fight again, or wars would never end.

This sounds like a fairy tale, but it is by no means scientifically impossible.

The inventor is full of confidence that he can do what he promises, and is now in communication with the Japanese government. His national hatred of Russia, dating back to 1848, prevented him from approaching the Czar, to whose pacific tastes such an invention should specially appeal.

If the shells in question prove to be efficacious—as to which one must await the trials which the inventor is eager to undertake—The Hague convention must include a new clause, to the effect that all combatants once put out of action are to consider themselves dead until the end of the war. In the future army at least one-half will consist of ambulance corps for the removal of these inert bodies. More probably regular armies will be put down, and there will be a premium on volunteering.

The income taxpayer, at least, will be grateful.

JUSTICE LOST CUPID'S TOLL

Newly Elected East Side Magistrate Will Waive Fee, but Wants Couple's Address.

Justice Stanton, the last addition to the list of squires at East St. Louis, is anxiously seeking the address of the first couple he married after assuming office. The new justice had no more than opened for business when W. J. Sederberg and Mrs. Anna Ashbrook, both of St. Louis, appeared before him and asked to be married.

The ceremony was performed and, being unfamiliar with the procedure in such cases and a little confused because he had never before started a pair upon what Stevenson called "the long, dusty highway which leads straight to the grave," the Justice forgot two important things—first, to collect a fee, and second, to retain the duplicate of the marriage certificate for delivery to the county clerk.

He gave the newly married pair everything, including his blessing, and subsequently discovered that, while the state is willing that he should waive the fee, it imposes a penalty of $100 on squires who do not file a certificate of marriage within ninety days after the ceremony.

Two of a Kind.

Rev. Thirdly: I'm awfully tired tonight.

Mrs. Thirdly: But I'm sure you are not as tired as I am, my dear."

Rev. Thirdly: Why not? Didn't I preach two sermons today?

Mrs. Thirdly: Yes; and didn't I listen to them?

SAYS WOMAN FLED WITH BANK FUNDS

Counsel for Creditors Declares Large Sum Was Turned Over to Her by the Rothschilds.

SEEN AT ATLANTIC CITY

There Detectives Lost Track of the Young Woman and Also of Louis Rothschild.

Special to the Post-Dispatch

NEW YORK, April 28.—"I am confident that a large sum of money, proceeds of the sale of Globe Security Co. securities, is in the custody of a young woman who has fled from New York in order to avoid appearing in court."

This statement was made by Mr. Goldsmith, attorney for the creditors of the money-lending concern.

"This woman knew all about the business," continued the lawyer. "She left here suddenly and we were able to trace her to Atlantic City, where Louis Rothschild was at the time. She did not go to the hotel where Rothschild was then living, but she is supposed to have been in communication with him. Both left Atlantic City and we have been unable to locate them since then. We have had detectives from a private agency looking for them. I have no means of knowing how much money was turned over to this woman, but I am certain it was a large sum.

"I am confident that when an examination is made of the securities held by the trustees of the Globe Security Co. a great shortage will be discovered."

Through Miss Katherine Heaney in the United States Court yesterday the fact was learned that two minor firms under Rothschild were engaged in the Globe Co.'s suite of offices. One of these firms was J. Gould & Co., the other Clark & Bennett. In some instances the officers of the Globe Co., instead of making loans directly, turned over would-be borrowers to one of these firms, usually in cases where the rate of interest was to be unusually large.

Miss Heaney was tearful and evidently frightened and the smiles of last week were missing.

Before going to court she visited the Globe offices, in the American Tract building, 150 Nassau street, and protested again that she could not open the safes. The tears started in the tin lined "safety vault." She turned the handles of the safes, but without any result. John M. Keen, receiver of the company, has not yet been able to open eight or ten of the safes.

Miss Heaney first appeared before Judge Holt to answer the charge of contempt of court for having failed to open the safes and for not appearing in court in obedience to a subpoena. Her own physician has certified that she was too ill to attend, but a physician sent by the court found that she could appear without endangering her health. Her lawyer, N. P. Waite, made a statement to the court, saying she had destroyed her memorandum of the combinations of the safes, because she had deemed it useless as she had been discharged. In opening the safes she has always had to refer to this memorandum as the combinations were frequently changed.

"This case is suspicious, at least," commented Judge Holt. "She destroyed the memorandum after she had received the subpoena to testify, and the natural inference is that she did so intentionally with the purpose of destroying the means of ascertaining the combinations. The charge of contempt lies therein, and it has been shown that she acted in good faith."

SIDELIGHTS ON THE FAIR

By Rose Marion.

t was imperative that he have exact knowledge about the arrival of the Nashville and the Lawrence.

e examined a World's Fair list of officials before he began to make inquiry. ardo Diaz-Albertini, director of receptons, read he. "Of couse," said he to himself, "I might have known that he was the rson to ask."

he telephone was handy. He actually connections. Mr. Albertini was not st gone out."

-e-l-l-g-h-t-e-d, the man asked his important question without delay. The soft, ll-enunciated tones of Mr. Albertini came k over the wire, "The man for you to is Capt. A. C. Baker of the United ttes Navy, now at the Transportation lding. He knows all about their arval."

he man bowed his thanks, telephonicalspeaking, hung up the receiver, took a int at the Irish procession and then dly requested "Central" to "give him" ptain Baker.

Central)" quickly made the donation and man repeated his inquiry.

'll tell you the very man that knows about this," replied the Captain in his act, obliging way; "Mr. Albertini; he'll glad to tell you everything."

gain the man acknowledged gratitude. e whistled two bars of "Wisdom, Where Thou?" hauled out a map of the Mississippi and guessed.

WHEN you hear shooting out on the World's Fair grounds don't become frightened. It's only the f repairers at work.

What connection has roof repairing and discharge of fire arms did you ask? nother evidence of the ... knowlge gained at the "Expo... Universe."

Hunted around 'till I found a man that ked right. I knew his country soon as spoke. Soon we were tracing kinfolks om Bowling Green to Georgia.

Pretty soon he says, 'Will you have a gah, colonel?'"

'Thank you,' said I, 'don't believe I will, t if you only had a pipe I would suhtinly ke to try that good old Kentucky natural af twist on youh desk.'

The twist and a handsome briah root pe with an ambah mouthpiece were in y hands in a minute.

It made a good smoke, and I said: un'n Mitchell, this is a mighty fine pipe.'

'Yes, suh,' he replied. 'I keep it foh distinguished visitors. Last man that smoked dat pipe was Booker T.—'

'Say, he didn't get the Washington out of a mouth befoh the pipe was out of mine. ood evenin', suh, said I.

'I don't know what to think. I don't believe one southern gentleman would offer nother southern gentleman a pipe that a gyah had been smoking. I don't think at a true southern gentleman would disturb the peace of anothah southern gentleman by joking with him on such a serious attah. Guess he's a gentleman and a sh."

Just then the wagon moved.

TWO EXHIBITORS DESIRE TO CHAPERONE GERONIMO.

Geronimo, the Apache chief who cost the government five years and $100,000, is again finding his wouldbe captors. Not that Geronimo is hiding or running away. Indeed he is living quietly at Fort Sill, Okla., where he is a member of the Methodist church and an honored citizen.

Superintendent Samuel M. McGowan of the Indian exhibit at the World's Fair wants Geronimo in his department and the manager of a Wild West exhibition at the fair is also anxious to have him. Geronimo is willing to come to St. Louis, but the government must decide under whose charge he will be. The decision has not yet been made.

BALLOON BRIDES WILL BE ONE OF FAIR'S INNOVATIONS.

Application has been made to the department of transportation exhibits for a concession to anchor three captive balloons at the World's Fair for the purpose of giving bird's-eye views to visitors who wish to take the ascension. The balloons will also be used, if the concession be granted, as "stake-boats" in the airship races. Marriages in balloons are advertised as a specialty.

FAIR'S FIRST DAY HER WEDDING DAY

That Her Brother, Mexican Commissioner, May Attend, Senorita Nuncio Will Marry Here.

BRIDEGROOM A RICH PLANTER

Romance of Tropical Clime Will Culminate in Exposition City This Week.

The earliest World's Fair wedding among the families of foreign commissioners promises to be that of Senorita Otilia Nuncio, sister of Albino R. Nuncio, Mexican commissioner general, on the very morning of the opening of the Exposition.

Senorita Nuncio is a popular representative of the Mexican capital's society, and is the daughter of Gen. J. Nuncio of the Mexican army. Through mutual friends she became acquainted, two years ago, with Senor Juan Ybarguengoitia, a wealthy planter and cattle grower.

Senor Ybarguengoitia became a good friend of the Nuncio family, and it was decided that the bride-elect's brother, the commissioner-general, should act as best man at the wedding, which was set for this spring.

The commissioner-general was busy at the World's Fair grounds getting the Mexican exhibits in the various departments in shape for the opening day, and announced that he could not visit the City of Mexico at the appointed time.

For this reason the couple decided to visit the city of the Universal Exposition and make of the opening day a happy anniversary long to be remembered by themselves. Three weeks ago the bride-elect, accompanied by her sisters, Senoritas Gertrudis and Rita Nuncio, and their brother, Senor J. M. Nuncio, came to St. Louis and joined their brother, the commissioner-general, at his residence, 4434 Forest Park boulevard.

Several days ago Senor Ybarguengoitia followed his intended bride to St. Louis, and is at the Planters' Hotel. A marriage license taken out yesterday shows his age to be 48 years, and that of Senorita Nuncio 23 years.

The wedding having been brought to St. Louis that Commissioner-General Nuncio may act as best man, he will fill that part while his sister, Senorita Gertrudis Nuncio, acts as madrina. The wedding will be quietly performed by a justice of the peace at the Forest Park boulevard residence in the presence of the family only, and after two or three weeks at the Fair, the couple will return to Mexico City, where they will be again married according to the rites of the Catholic Church.

WASHINGTON LOSES DEBATE.

Judges Award Prize to William Jewell College Speakers.

Washington University lost the second in a series of three debates with William Jewell College at Liberty, Mo., Wednesday night. The question was, "Resolved, that the general tendency of trades unions in the United States during the past century has been detrimental to the best interests of the country."

Alva Trueblood, E. B. Patton and F. L. English, for Washington, took the negative. The judges were T. A. Johnson of Boonville, S. B. Ladd of Kansas City and Superintendent Miller of the St. Joseph public schools.

STROLLS THROUGH A WINDOW.

Crash of Plate Glass Does Not Disconcert Polite Stranger.

"I beg your pardon for the intrusion," said a polite stranger to the clerk of the Mammoth Hotel, Twelfth and Olive streets, Wednesday night, after he had walked through a $100 pane of plate glass, shattering the window into a thousand fragments, with a crash that was heard for a block. Then he walked away before the subject of payment for the damage had suggested itself.

The bottom of the pane had been on a level with the sidewalk, and the stranger failed to notice it.

English Rate of Discount.

LONDON, April 28.—The rate of discount of the Bank of England was unchanged today at 3 per cent.

CALL!!
IT COMES.

Every first-class hotel has Grape-Nuts in the kitchen for guests that WILL HAVE IT.

It is sometimes left off the menu, for it costs something, and the proprietor had rather serve some less known food that is given to him free for the privilege of being named on the menu.

However, if one likes Grape-Nuts predigested food and values the feeling of strong, vigorous life that comes with its use, call and it comes.

BORROWED NAME HURTS CONSCIENCE

Minnesota Young Man Who Impersonated Chum Quits Fair Position and Returns Home.

WAS WELCOME TO ITS USE

Department Head Regrets Action to Which Honesty Impelled Efficient Worker.

For ten days C. M. Cattle of Stewartsville, Minn., assumed and bore the name of his chum, H. L. Stillwell, of the same town, for the purpose of holding a World's Fair position which had been secured for Stillwell and which Stillwell could not accept.

Then, conscience-stricken and disregarding the protests of his chum, Cattle went to Martin White, chief of his department, made a full confession of what he called his "duplicity," and asked to be allowed to resign.

His request was granted, and Cattle at once returned to Stewartsville, without glittering prospects, but with a conscience lightened of a weight he had found too heavy to carry.

Stillwell, through the influence of Congressman Tawney of Minnesota, who was chairman of the House committee on expositions, secured an appointment as gateman at the World's Fair. He told his chum, Cattle, of his appointment; Cattle expressed regret that he, too, was not to come to St. Louis.

Before the date set for Stillwell's departure, he found that he could not come. At once he thought of Cattles' desire for the position, and suggested that Cattle take his letters and recommendations, come to St. Louis and take the position. Cattle, looking on the matter as a lark, agreed, and Stillwell, in addition to giving him his letters, gave him another letter, authorizing him to use his name.

Cattle came at once to St. Louis, and April 10 reported as Stillwell and was put to work.

He did his work well, but his conscience began to trouble him. He wrote to his chum, saying he was going to quit the deception and return home. Stillwell hurriedly replied, advising him against such action, assuring him he was perfectly welcome to the use of the name Stillwell, and warning him that employment was hard to secure at Stewartsville.

The letter did not ease Cattle's mind, however, and, with it and the other documents, he called upon Mr. White, chief of the department of admissions, and explained everything.

"Cattle was a good, honorable young fellow," said Mr. White to the Post-Dispatch to-day. "He was one of the best men we had, and we were sorry to lose him. There was nothing criminal in his action—just a bit of boyish thoughtlessness, and it was very unfortunate that he did not come to us under his right name."

Cattle, giving the name of Stillwell, had no difficulty in giving the $500 bond required of gatemen; and as soon as he had resigned he notified the bonding company and had the bond cancelled.

ALL THE SMITHS INVITED

John Cabell Smith of Louisville Willing to Spend $25,000 in Entertaining Numerous Family.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 28.—The Smith family, not specifically but generally, will assemble in Louisville this fall, if the plan of John Cabell Smith, a wealthy Kentuckian, is concurred in by the Smiths at large.

Smith has issued a general invitation through the press to the Smiths of the country to assemble in Louisville for a three days' reunion, and he will defray all the expenses of entertainment. He says he is willing to spend $25,000 on his project, but that he will drop it unless he receives assurances that the Smith family of the United States will be represented by a fair proportion of those bearing the name.

"There is no reason why several thousand should not attend," he says, "and in that event we could fix up a parade and other festivities that would startle the world. I want men, women and children and I want them to come prepared for a hilarious time. I want all who can come to notify me so I can proceed with my plans."

A Fine World's Fair Map Free.

The Mercantile Trust Co. has issued an illuminated and indexed map of the World's Fair grounds and the Pike, which is marvelous in its completeness and convenience. It is 8x14 inches in size, but folds up into a neat holder not so large as an ordinary envelope, so that it can be easily carried in the pocket. It shows the location of every building and every feature on the grounds, and the index enables one to find instantly the locations sought.

A copy will be given free to any one who applies for it, either personally or by mail, to the Savings Department of the Mercantile Trust Co., 721 Locust st., St. Louis, Mo.

KEEPS HUSBAND IN STORAGE.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NIAGARA FALLS, April 28.—A man named Lyons died last December at his home on a farm on the Military road, near Fletcher's Corners, two miles east of this city. Neighbors, who knew of the death, expected, of course, that the funeral would follow, but the time passed and no funeral was held. Recently complaint was made to a coroner of this city that the body was being kept in the barn.

An investigation revealed that the body was in storage, and the widow said that her husband's body had been placed in a metallic casket, and that she was waiting for a son to come home before holding the funeral.

Nothing like this has ever happened before in Niagara County, and the officials are at a loss to know how to proceed. At present it looks as though the woman might keep her dead as long as she wants to, but every day adds to the neighbors' dissatisfaction.

The Wabash Line

Will sell tickets for World's Fair opening at rate of one fare for round trip (Danville $5), from Danville, Moberly and intermediate stations, for trains leaving stations afternoon of Friday, April 29, and subsequent trains arriving in St. Louis prior to noon Saturday, April 30, returning by all trains, including Sunday, May 1

Morgan Gets Milton Manuscript.

NEW YORK, April 28.—It has just been learned that the Scrivener's manuscript, book I, of Milton's "Paradise Lost," bought at a recent sale in London by an American collector, has been turned over to J. P. Morgan. A Fifth avenue bookdealer represented Mr. Morgan. He paid $600 for the manuscript.

MEETS HIS SISTER AFTER 40 YEARS

Aged Man Goes to Pier With Photographs and Finds His Relative.

NEW YORK, April 28.—Pacing the Red Star line dock yesterday with a bunch of photographs in his hands was an old, gray-haired man. He peered into the faces of the women passengers as they came off the Zeeland, stopping now and then to look at the photographs.

"Well, I've seen them all," he said finally to the watchman, "except that woman in black with the veil. I think she is the one. Will you ask her to look at these pictures?"

Hardly had the woman glanced at the photos than she rushed across the dock and fell into the old man's arms and sobbed.

They were brother and sister, and had been separated for forty years. The man had never seen his sister since they were children.

F. H. Ingalls will close all day Saturday. Every employe is going to the Fair.

Brooks Resists Extradition.

A dispatch from Los Angeles states that Charles H. Brooks, former head of the Brooks Brokerage Co., recently arrested on an indictment returned in St. Louis, charging use of the mails for advertising a "get-rich-quick" scheme, will fight extradition when his hearing comes up May 16. Brooks was arraigned Wednesday in Los Angeles before United States Commissioner Van Dyke.

FISHERMAN MAKES BIG CATCH

One Minnow on a Hook Resulted in Landing Three Pikes at One Haul.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

SEAFORTH, Del., April 28.—While Mrs. John Harris of this place was cleaning a large pike she found another pike in its stomach.

She salted the big pike and then cut open the smaller one and found in its stomach a third pike.

In the stomach of the third pike she found a minnow with a broken hook in its mouth.

It is believed that the minnow had been used for bait and was swallowed by the small pike, which being caught easily fell prey to the next size, which in turn met the same fate.

MOTHER CHARGED WITH MURDER

Mrs. De Witt Had Denied Relationship to Girl Until After Arrest on Poisoning Charge.

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., April 28.—Mrs. Herrietta De Witt was arrested yesterday at Sidney, Delaware County, charged with murder in the first degree, in causing the death of her 17-year-old daughter, Florence Mackintosh, by poisoning her with arsenic.

Until today Mrs. De Witt has always called the girl her stepdaughter. Today she admitted that Florence was her own child.

The evidence before the coroner's jury pointed strongly toward the mother having caused her girl's death to obtain $2000 life insurance.

Mrs. De Witt, when arraigned before the coroner, was apparently the most unconcerned person in the room, taking her seat carelessly and picking up a paper to read about her case. She waived examination and was held for the grandjury.

Struck Out Sixteen.

URBANA, Ill., April 28.—Illinois was defeated by Wisconsin yesterday by the score of 5 to 4. Young, Wisconsin's twirler, pitched remarkable ball. He struck out sixteen Illinois batters and allowed only five hits.

Chapman for Congress.

CARMI, Ill., April 28.—The Republicans of the Twenty-fifth Congressional District yesterday afternoon nominated Pleasant F. Chapman of Vienna for Congress.

A PAPER SOLD EVERY DAY FOR EVERY HOME IN THE CITY.

Make it 200,000.

Bourke Cockran has not studied Burke's speeches in vain.

Bryan's little hammer doesn't look like Washington's little hatchet.

Waiting for dead men's shoes is common outside of the coroner's office, but the wait there has not been long.

The departure of the Missouri Health Society for Europe goes to show that the health of the state is recovering from the overdose of alum politics.

When so many thousands of Democrats have indorsed Judge Parker, it is not worth while to object to his indorsement by any individual Democrats.

It is noted that four out of five of the Missouri state senators indicted for boodling were Republicans. What of that! We must put all the boodlers of all parties in the pen.

A little common sense has occurred to the United States Senate. The construction of possibly useless battleships may be delayed until the war shall enable us to work more intelligently.

The remaining able-bodied citizens of the United States who have not yet applied for a place in the Jefferson Guards should be interested in the statement that there are at least 17,000 applications now awaiting attention.

THE EXPOSITION OPENING HOLIDAY.

Gov. Dockery's proclamation makes the opening day of the Exposition a Missouri holiday, as well as a St. Louis holiday. The whole state is invited to join with St. Louis in celebrating the starting of the greatest of expositions.

Thus the movement suggested by the Post-Dispatch to break the record of all exposition opening days is spreading. It appeals to every patriotic St. Louisan and should appeal to every patriotic Missourian. All who can get to the Exposition on that day from St. Louis and the surrounding country should go, not merely because of the pride which Missourians take in the Exposition and their desire to start it with the high-water mark of success, but because it will be the most interesting and notable of all the days of the Exposition. The list of business houses and factories which will close is swelling rapidly. It should and doubtless will embrace practically all of the industries in the city.

Although the Exposition will not be complete in every detail when the gates open, there is good reason to believe that it will be further advanced towards completion than any other exposition. The people will have an opportunity to see the great Exposition started; they will have an opportunity to participate in the interesting ceremonies which will accompany the opening; they will have an opportunity to see and greet the representatives of their country and the foreign countries who have been invited to participate in the opening ceremonies.

No man, woman or child who can attend the Exposition Saturday can afford to miss it. It will be a red-letter day in their lives. Attend the Exposition Saturday and help break the record.

If Senator William J. Stone has really decided, as his friends intimate, not to be a candidate for delegate at large from Missouri to the national Democratic convention, he has come to a wise conclusion. He has relieved the Democrats of the state of the unpleasant duty of turning down one of the state's senators in the state convention of the party. It would be impossible for the reform element of the Missouri Democracy, which is now winning a notable victory over the machine bosses, to send to the party's national convention as the representative of a purified party the man who preeminently stands for machine bossism, who has gained his place through the machine, and whose record places him in the ranks of the lobbyists, whom it is the duty of the reformers to drive out of public life. If Senator Stone will add to his resolution not to be a candidate for the delegateship to the national Democratic convention a resolution to retire to private life, he will relieve the party and the people of his state from serious embarrassment.

HOW TO KEEP YOUTH.

A woman who has some facts to support her says "there is no reason why a woman should not grow more attractive personally as she advances in years, provided she lives in harmony with the laws of nature."

It is not enough to tell a woman who wants to increase her charms that she must live according to the laws of nature. The words are too general.

A woman with such an ambition must take care of her health, maintain a good temper and stop thinking of her birthdays.

Perhaps this last includes the other two.

A woman—or a man either for that matter—who is oblivious to the flight of time will bear no traces of it in her or his face. Whether or not any woman can do this is perhaps doubtful, but there is no doubt that in the degree she forgets or ignores the thought of time she will retain her youth. Don't brood on your birthdays; forget them.

Disorganizer Bryan wanted Parker as a running mate in 1900, but the moment he appears as the man for the first place on the ticket the Bryan hammer swings on his head. As the Democratic "knocker" Mr. Bryan is giving an exhibition of the strenuous life.

BEGIN EARLY.

The Chicago sanitary trustees, not content with turning the Chicago river and sending its sewer-laden waters southward, has planned to reinforce the foul stream by turning the sewerage of the stock yards district into the main drainage canal, whence it will flow into the Illinois and Mississippi.

Would it not be wise for the towns and cities along the two rivers to move in this matter before the work is begun.

When the drainage canal was completed, St. Louis woke up to the peril and instituted legal proceedings. But an accomplished fact is a hard thing to overcome in sanitation, as in diplomacy. Why not begin now and prevent any great investment in a work which may imperil the health of the entire valley?

Will Bryan Bolt?

From the Nashville American.

Whatever the St. Louis platform may contain, it is absolutely certain that it will not represent Mr. Bryan's views. Mr. Bryan must know this. He occupies a position from which he cannot recede without an absolute surrender. He is burning the bridges behind him, and there will be nothing left for him to do but bolt, unless his fanaticism suddenly departs from him—and no such radical cure can be reasonably expected. His declaration that there is enough evidence on hand "to convict Judge Parker of absolute unfitness for the nomination," makes it plain that he does not entertain any idea of supporting Parker, whose nomination is regarded as a certainty. Mr. Bryan's bolt will create no surprise, and it will be hailed as a relief to the party and an ultimately great advantage. His departure will draw some votes that have heretofore been cast for the party, but it will serve to attract other votes to the party and to add strength where he has caused weakness.

Is Beauty, or the Lack of It, a Crime?

BY NIXOLA-GREELEY SMITH, GRANDDAUGHTER OF HORACE GREELEY.

Written for the Post-Dispatch.

There is, according to a story in yesterday's paper, a movement on foot among women typewriters and stenographers to establish a union among themselves, with a regular scale of wages and hours, to be based on professional efficiency instead of on personal beauty, which it is claimed is now a large factor in the fixing of salaries.

Miss Elsie Diehl, the chief organizer of the movement, was quoted as saying:

"Take a girl of ruddy cheeks, ruby lips and pearly teeth. She goes to work in a big office downtown. Pretty soon instead of reporting at 8 or 9 o'clock in the morning and quitting at 5 or 6, she comes down to her work at 10 or 11 and goes away at 4. It's the pearly teeth, the winsome smile.

"But what happens to the anemic girl? She works early and late and hard and gets small wages. We want to establish a uniform rate for a certain class of work.

"When a girl really receives a good salary now it is because she has charming and winning ways. I know because I have had this experience. I have gone many a time to an office in response to an advertisement and been refused work."

All of which is undoubtedly true. But to the unprejudiced mind it would seem that a far better remedy for the inequality would be not to lower the general wage scale to what mere man is willing to pay for mere work, but to raise the average of personal pulchritude so that all may share in the reward of beauty.

Possibly such trifles as the pearly teeth and ruby lips specified in the arraignment of the pretty girl should not weigh against sterling merit, which, be it said, nevertheless, is not always complicated with anemia, but so long as the immense majority of employers is of the masculine gender they always will. And therefore it behooves the pale sufferer from impoverished blood to take a tonic, to walk and breathe properly, to array herself becomingly, to do her hair the right way, and, instead of wasting time worrying over the superior advantages of the pretty girl, to be a pretty girl herself.

They can do it; for, to begin with, not one woman in a hundred is really pretty. This does not mean merely that not one in a hundred possesses a classic regularity of features or of bodily proportions. It means that the average woman pronounced good looking is almost wholly lacking in the essential elements of beauty—have good health—and owes the effect she produces to various artifices, sartorial and otherwise, which are within the reach of everyone.

Before pronouncing any woman beautiful one must look upon an untouched proof of her photograph. If she survives that supreme ordeal of the camera Venus herself could do more. But while genuinely beautfuly women are rare, we meet women who by taste in dress and hairdressing create the illusion of it every day. And the girl who finds that her lack of beauty interferes with her professional advancement should study the pretty girls about her and study herself that she may make the most of her good points even as they do.

Most women are made or marred by the way they arrange their hair. The pompadour has in the last ten years probably made more pretty women than were ever born. But it has also marred the appearance of many to whom it was not becoming, but who wore it because it was the fashion. If the anemic girl in business will do her hair properly, walk and sleep enough and eat proper food, which does not mean expensive food, dress becomingly and foreswear that most hideous of dressmakers' inventions, the choker collar, she will not have to worry over the greater consideration in which the pretty girl is held, for she will be a pretty girl herself.

FOR THE YOUNG FOLKS

THE POTATO BUG THAT MADE FACES.

There was once a jolly potato bug in a striped suit. He lived on the potato vines in Farmer Brown's patch.

One day Farmer Brown came through the patch, throwing handfuls of white powder all over the leaves. This was lime, and it was intended to kill potato bugs. So the potato bug crept under a leaf and stayed there till the man was past. Then he came out and made faces at the farmer's back.

He Lived on the Potato Vines.

By and by the potato bug changed his suit for a spotted one. He was a wise potato bug, and kept looking out for men with powder. Soon there came one with a green powder, sprinkling it on the leaves. Master Potato Bug ran under a leaf once more, and when the man was gone past he again came out and made faces at his back.

He thought now that he should be safe for the rest of his life; but Farmer Brown had promised his son Billy a round silver dollar if he would gather and bring to him a can of potato bugs. Billy wanted that dollar—he wanted it to go to the circus—so he took a tin can and a stick and went down to the patch early in the morning. He would hold his can under the leaves and knock the bugs into it with the stick.

Our wise potato bug thought he knew a trick worth two of that. He crawled under the leaf once more, and when Billy was past he came out and was just making the most horrible faces at his back when the boy turned and saw him.

"Hello! here's a big one," Billy said.

"You go in there, sir. I've got a potato-bug convention in my tin can." And he knocked Mr. Potato Bug off his perch and into the middle of a squirming mass of bugs.

So Billy got to go to the circus and the potato bug got to go to a convention—but it was not one which he liked very well, I can tell you.

A French Game.

A game adapted from the French that is very popular among the little people of Amercia is a good test for the memory.

The children must sit in a circle, and one, as leader, announces in this fashion: "I pack my trunk and in it I put—" mentioning some article used in traveling, as gloves, brush or cologne. The next child begins then, saying what the leader has said and adding another article, and so on around the circle, each child repeating all the articles mentioned by the leader in their correct order and then adding one more to the list, which after awhile assumes lengthy proportions. If one boy or girl forgets one article or puts it in the wrong order he or she must drop out of the game, and the last child remaining has the privilege of starting a new game.

WASHINGTON DAY BY DAY.

It Was Cannon's Busy Day—Georgia Hospitality—An Unconventional Daughter.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, April 28.—Speaker Cannon was busily engaged in passing unanimous-consent bills in the House this afternoon when Gov. Odell stepped up to shake hands with him.

"How are you, Mr. Speaker?" asked Odell.

"Is there any object—first class, first class?" said Cannon, and everybody laughed.

Representative Adamson says true hospitality and fellowship exist only in the South, and especially in his state of Georgia. Once while he was campaigning in his district he received a message calling him home—twenty-five miles away. There was no train until the next day, and all the horses in the neighborhood were busy at farm work. He went to a farmer he knew and stated his case. He said he had to get home and there was nothing else to it.

"Well, William," said the farmer, "I can't spare a horse from the farm just now. The work is behind and I need every one. But I'll tell you what I will do. I will walk over with you to keep you company."

"Yes," said Representative Cushman of Washington, in a speech a night or two ago, "there are a lot of men out in my country who are for Roosevelt. I asked one of them why one day, and he replied: 'Well, I'll tell you. He is the only man in public life who looks worse than his cartoons, and he must be all right.'"

She was a young and handsome daughter of the American Revolution, and, pad and pencil in hand, she was struggling with the composition of a point of order. The congress had been through a stormy executive session in an endeavor to shelve or table the Huey-Roberts scandal. She had made a good fight and she was weary.

"Madam State Regent," said a member of the press, politely, "can you tell me briefly what was the result of this executive session?"

"Yes," replied the spirited daughter of revolutionary sires, "d——d foolishness."

At the D. A. R. congress the other day the state regents were invited to boil down their annual reports to three-minute talks, the regent of Massachusetts had a good deal to say for her state, and realizing the futility of attempting it in the time limit imposed, she contented herself with telling a story.

"This reminds me," she said, "of the society woman who went out to dinner on the arm o fa young scholar. 'I hear, sir,' she said to him in her blandest and most encouraging tones, that you have evolved a new theory as to the creation of the world. Tell me in two words what it is.'"

MOUKDEN'S PUNISHMENT.

Russians Took Savage Revenge for Murder of a Soldier.

The ancient Manchu capital lies 14 English miles to the east of the railway from which it is separated by a flat, fertile, but uninteresting country, at present a sea of impassable mud.

Moukden has had a checkered history during the Russian occupation. At first it was decided, out of consideration for the feelings of the imperial family, not to occupy it. The Russian general occupied a post of observation near the town, into which his soldiers were allowed to enter.

The inhabitants showed themselves, on the whole, friendly, but a soldier, probably under the influence of drink, having made himself obnoxious in the city, was seized and imprisoned by the Chinese police. Next morning he was brought up before the mandarin, who, dealing with him as with one of his own people, ordered him to be crucified on the west gate of the city wall.

The next morning the early Russian visitors were horrified to see the body of their comrade nailed to the great door, his white tunic reddened by streams of blood.

News was at once carried to Gen. Grodekoff, then in command of the troops of the district. Furious at the intentional insult to his religion and country he handed over the town to three days' pillage.

The soldiers, only too glad to avenge their comrade's death, burst into the town, massacring every Chinaman seen in the streets. Bursting into the palace they scattered the rich silks, the pearls, the brocades, the rare bronzes. Documents hundreds of years old, priceless to science, recording the history of a vanished age, were burned or trampled under foot.

Jade from Kashgar, furniture that Riesner might have envied, incense burners in exquisite cloisonne enamel, were to be picked up for a few kopecks. After a three days' sack the Russians retired from the city.

Since then the Chinese have not dared to lift their eyes from the ground.—Fortnightly Review.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

JANITORS WANT A HOLIDAY.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

I would like to ask, through the help of your paper, why the janitors of the public schools cannot have a holiday Saturday?

A. S.

PASSHOLDERS TAKE OTHERS, WHO PAY.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

This point in regard to passes for stockholders in the Exposition does not seem to have been considered by those who have written you about it.

A passholder will go more frequently, as a rule, than if he had to pay his way. He will not go alone, but will persuade someone to go with him. Such stockholder, if given a pass, would thereby become an advertising agent for the Exposition, and the paid attendance would be actually increased. Is not this a good reason for giving them?

ANOTHER STOCKHOLDER.

SOUTH SIDERS WANT TO SEE THE FAIR.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

I do not think that the street car company is treating the South Side right, taking away the Chouteau avenue line, the only direct line to the Fair grounds. The South Side is thickly populated, the cars are always crowded, and it will be so much trouble always to transfer. There is a rumor that either the Park avenue or Compton Heights cars would go out direct. Please let us know if there is any truth in this? Do you think it would do any good to get up a petition, signed by all the prominent South Side people, and present it to the Transit company? We want a direct line so bad; we need it to be successful.

RAILROAD CLERKS WANT A HOLIDAY.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

You are to be thanked for many things, but if you can induce the freight depots and offices of the several railroad companies in St. Louis to close Saturday and allow several thousand clerks and laborers to attend the opening of the greatest Fair ever held you will render a service that will be appreciated. Will you try it, please?

A RAILROAD CLERK.

PASSES FOR STOCKHOLDERS.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Regarding stockholders' passes to the World's Fair, if your paper would line out and advocate our cause we would get our rights. The stockholders are entitled to passes, and should have them. The stockholders are supreme in any corporation, and if they call a stockholders' meeting and instruct the officers to grant passes they must grant them. Please give us your assistance in this matter in a few editorials, and I am confident we can get what is right. Chicago gave all stockholders passes, and they gave back some of the money subscribed, but we may not get back any of our money, and are not to get in to see our own show unless we pay for it again.

CRAMPING THE FEET.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

In the last Sunday's Post-Dispatch I read an article on the cramping of feet. I can give a remedy for this trouble, for it is a terrible suffering, and I have gone through just what so many ladies described, but for the past seven or eight years have never been troubled, so I give this to suffering humanity. The disease is caused by a certain leader that passes over the instep, so never allow the shoe to touch the instep or tie anything across. Always wear low-quarter shoes, both summer and winter. When too cold to wear the low shoes, wear gaiters with them, and do not wear a low shoe too tight; I mean to bind the foot. I have told several this remedy and never knew it to fail. No one could suffer more than I did for years. It is the pressure on this nerve that causes the cramping. I hope those that suffer will try this.

FALSE IMPRESSIONS OF ST. LOUIS.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

The Post-Dispatch certainly hit the nail on the head in the editorial yesterday on the fact that the general impression prevails over the country that visitors to St. Louis are to be robbed by hotels and boarding houses. I have some insight to foreign impressions. In every mail I find letters from vaudeville performers and others, who state that they do not care to book St. Louis theaters unless they get double salaries, owing, as they state, to the fact that board and rooming costs five or six times its worth.

The St. Louis newspapers and newspaper correspondents are in a measure to blame for this erroneous impression. Now, as a matter of fact, the performers employed by the amusement enterprise which I manage have had no trouble in securing board and rooms at usual prices.

An earnest effort should be made to counteract these false impressions, else they will materially affect the attendance at the Fair. In my opinion, a record-breaking first day, such as you advocated yesterday, will contribute greatly towards this end.

SWEDEN'S GLORIOUS HISTORY.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

In these days of war clamor and of references to past great achievements, I would like to know if it is ignorance on the part of the American press that keeps Sweden and its wonderful history altogether in darkness with Gustaf Adolf in 1594 to Charles XII. 1718. For over one hundred years the Swedes held all Europe at bay, and fighting all the while against tremendous odds and never lost a fight. Sweden's glorious outcome of the 30 years' war ought to be remembered, and Gustavus Adolphus is admitted one of the greatest among the great generals that ever lived. As the defenders of Charles XII on the throne, three kings of Europe were bent on his and Sweden's final crush, but different was the outcome. King Charles first vanquished the Danes. After that the Russians at Narva, 1700. At this memorable battle the Swedish army, only 8000 strong, completely destroyed 80,000 entrenched Russians. Having thus defeated two kings, the remaining one, King August of Poland, he had dethroned. The Swedes were invincible. The last chapter is his march on Moskwa with the purpose to dethrone Czar Peter. The Russians suing for peace, but being refused, devastated everything in his path. Here the same disaster befell Charles as that of Napoleon. His army was starved to death, but could not be vanquished in the open field.

Morning Exercises for Developing the Neck and Arms

The morning, at once upon arising, and before the bath—whether tepid or cold, plunge or sponge, is taken—is the best time to follow out any prescribed course of exercises. The body is then well rested after the night's sleep, and should be in such trim as to withstand even a slight strain without fear of evil consequences.

The peculiar thing about all of these so-called home exercises is that they will take off superfluous tissue from the adipose and will in the very same instances increase tissue in those who are—or consider themselves—unduly lean or even "scraggy."

The coiled wire spring exerciser, with a handle at either end, is about as good an investment as the painfully thin girl can make. In the first place it is inexpensive and in the second it occupies no floor or wall space whatever; so that, even in the narrow and confined limits of a hall bedroom, the very best results may be attained.

Having donned loose clothing, the first exercise calls for the coil to be grasped in both hands loosely at about the level of the waist line. Taking a deep inbreath the coil is gradually stretched until its utmost extension is reached, and as it contracts again the breath is released. Perhaps at the first it will not be possible to stretch the coil to its fullest extent, since the steel will offer a certain amount of resistance; and until the muscles have been sufficiently developed it will not be the part of wisdom to try them too much at first. This is pre-eminently a case where one must "make haste slowly" if the best results are to be attained. Stretch the coil as far as is found easy and comfortable, and in a very short time the necessary strength to pull it further will be developed. This exercise will develop the neck and arms.

TO DEVELOP THE CHEST.—Grasping the handles with the machine at smallest length poise the body on the balls of the feet, and, holding the exerciser behind the back, stretch and relax it quickly, taking a deep in-breath as you stretch it and letting the breath out as the hands meet.

FOR SLENDER WAIST.—Slip the handles of exerciser over the wrists and, raising the hands as far above the head as possible, bend the body until the finger tips touch the toes. Hold hips and knees rigid and keep only the waist muscles limber.

FOR ROUNDED ARMS.—Use the thumbs to hold the handles and stretch and relax the exerciser, holding the one hand steady and using the other as a lever. Alternate the arms, and continue the exercise as long as can be done comfortably and without fatigue.

FOR WRISTS AND FINGERS.—Steady one end of the exerciser by slipping the feet through the handle, and, grasping the other handle firmly, stretch the exerciser to its fullest extent, being careful to use the wrist and finger muscles only. Repeat at least twenty times. Pianists will find this an admirable exerciser for strengthening the wrists and fingers.

Any number of further exercises will gradually suggest themselves to the student as the course progresses.

In all instances the body must be held in the correct physiological position. The head must be held up and the chin well raised. The shoulders must be in correct position—that is, well back, with the chest protruding; the abdomen held inward; the knees rigid and the weight of the body poised on the balls of the feet. A plummet line held at the chin should not touch the bust and toes; it should not touch the body at any point.

All upward movements or upward motions of the arms must be accompanied by a deep inspiration, for then the lungs have a chance to expand to their fullest capacity, and care must be taken to see that every bit of air inhaled is emitted on the downward motion or movement. Learn to breathe slowly, deeply and thoroughly. No real good can be accomplished or expected of exercises performed upon an insufficient breath supply.

WHY WOMEN MAKE POOR AUTOMOBILISTS

From May Outing.

Lack of concentration is the most common failing of all among motor-women. If a woman cannot concentrate in every-day things, she cannot concentrate when she motors. The weakness that causes a woman to read the same page of a book twice to get its meaning, that makes her ask an eager question about the detail of a story which one has just carefully explained, that leads her mind a will-o'-the-wisp trip around the hem of the conversation, is the same weakness which, in motoring, keeps her looking too long at an attractive bit of scenery, or turning her attention for a moment wholly to something that has been said, or for a single instant lifting her hand from the brake. Generally speaking, a woman who is not a good listener will not be a good chauffeuse. She cannot concentrate. And incidentally, that is why, if a woman has learned to do any one thing well, she is a better motor pupil. If she play the piano, if she can play bridge, if she can paint, even if she can typewrite, she will, ten to one, be a good chauffeuse. It is the dilettante in motoring, as in most things, who is a failure.

Lack of concentration is another word for carelessness in motoring. Most of the motor accidents, it is trite to say, come not from defective machines or too swift running, but from carelessness that is simply due to inability to concentrate. This is a feminine fault more than a masculine. And suppose, after a smooth run, a corner is turned at the top of a steep grade, and a herd of cattle, or an inattentive pedestrian, or one of the thousand nightmares that lie in wait for motor people, confront her. She will be startled by the danger that she must meet in the next few seconds; she will make a wild aim at the hand-brake, but the hand-brake is so fatally near the speed lever that it is the simplest thing in the world to miscalculate. Or if she has failed to notice that the robe has slipped ove rthe pedals, she may have difficulty in reaching the one that cuts off the power. Any one of the mistakes will either cause a fatality or decorate a miracle. But if only she had realized when the car was bought that she could not concentrate, and if only she had let the car teach her how fatality and miracle both would have been averted.

As to "The."

A voluntary contributor to magazines and newspapers had a desirable article returned to him the other day because he began the opening paragraph with the definite article, "the." The editor wrote: "If we should allow all of our authors to begin with 'the' every article would so begin." There is at least one newspaper in New York which will not accept a story of any kind if it begins with "the." The editor in charge, seeing the "the" at the opening, immediately throws the story into the waste basket.—New York Press.

"George and that Chicago woman he is to marry have had a dreadful quarrel."

"What's the trouble?"

"She wanted him to ask her former husbands to act as ushers. George said he'd do it but for one thing."

"What's that?"

"He couldn't bear to have the bunch look at him sympathetically."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Earthquakes and Microbes.

Do earthquakes set microbes in motion, or do they only affect the nerves? is a question which has been raised recently. From early times pestilence has been regarded as one of the accompaniments of earthquakes. Nor is this perhaps a mere figure of superstition. Many instances of epidemics following upon earthquakes are on record, says the Lancet. Thus, in 557-69 A. D., earthquake years, Constantinople was visited by a pestilence, and in 615 A. D., after more than a decade of seismic disturbances, which extended from Japan to the Mediterranean, the whole of Italy was visited, according to Sigonius, by a fearful epidemic, of which the nature is not recorded. Old writers, such as Von Pienciz, an authority on the Lisbon earthquake of 1755, were wont to attribute the proneness to disease exhibited by whole populations during earthquake seasons to shaken nerves begotten of prolonged suspense and broken rest at night.—Leslie's Weekly.

FRITZIE SCHEFF TELLS OF KISSES

She Appears to Have the Thing Boiled Down to a Science—Perhaps by Practice.

CHICAGO, April 28.—Fritzi Schaff has been talking about kissing. It was all due to a reporter's casual mention of the incident when after Mlle. Scheff's successful debut in comic opera, she kissed Victor Herbert, the author of the piece, on the stage.

"Kisses," she said, "are of three sorts—those of love, those of esteem (such as you bestow on a parent), and those of admiration pure and simple, mingled with gratitude, such as I gave M. Herbert. The love kiss I cannot describe. It is known in all languages. It is what you call not necessaire to talk about. It is divine and of its own kind. The what you call smack to the parent we know, too, in all languages. The gratitude affair is sincere. You are carried away, you are so glad. The hand shake is so cold; it means so little.

"Ah, the kiss is the true sign of every emotion, boiled down into the consomme that begins the feast. It is te beginning of the banquet. Ah! whatdoes it not mean?

"The stage kiss is nothing. Half the time you think you see it, but it has never happened. It is elusive and illusive. The audience sees the tenor kiss the heroine. They think so. His lips may graze her ear—that is all. It deceives—one reason why I do not care for it; I am truthful."

"Is there pleasure in kissing?"

Mlle. Scheff looked grieved.

"I know," she said, "but my manager says I must not talk for publication."

"To kiss properly," said Mlle. Scheff—"I mean the love kiss—the woman should purse her lips so; the happy man should place his so. The arms should be ready, and, viola! it is an embrace. While you count five it should last. At least that long.

"The affection plain and the gratitude affair should be just a salute—short, sedate, chaste. A touch—that is all. Now you know my views. Let me add that grandmothers are entitled to only just a second, aunts to two seconds, cousins to three, uncles to one, men cousins to—well, say five—if they are good looking.

"The kiss is something unlike anything else ever devised. It cannot be imitated."

NEIGHBORS WERE HER DETECTIVES

As a Result Mrs. Nina King Has Had Her Husband Arrested on Bigamy Charge.

MRS. KING NO. 2 WAS DECEIVED

Miss Dora Lewis Declares King Told Her His Wife Had Secured a Divorce From Him.

Former neighbors organized themselves into a volunteer detective agency for Mrs. Nina King of 3002 Chouteau avenue when she was informed that her husband had gone through the marriage ceremony with another woman, and the result was the arrest, Wednesday night, of the husband, Walter King, on a charge of bigamy.

Walter King and Nina Moore were married Nov. 23, 1899, and lived for a time at 4326 Hunt avenue. June 27, 1902, he left her, with a 2-year-old daughter, Myrtle, and an 8-day-old son, who has since died.

While Mr. and Mrs. King were living at the Hunt avenue address, Miss Dora Lewis was living less than a block away, at 4407A Hunt avenue. The neighbors became friends.

After her desertion, Mrs. King went to live with her mother, Mrs. Nancy Moore, at 3002 Chouteau avenue.

Mrs. King says her husband continued to visit the neighborhood of their old home, and that his friendship for Miss Lewis grew into an infatuation. Several times she heard that they were engaged.

"Then I heard," she told the Post-Dispatch Thursday, "that last Saturday they went through the marriage ceremony before Justice Robert Carroll. I investigated, and had my old neighbors investigate for me. They found that Mr. King and Miss Lewis were living with Miss Lewis' family at 4407A Hunt avenue. Then I had him arrested."

Miss Lewis was grief-stricken at the arrest of her supposed husband.

"I knew that he had been married," she told the Post-Dispatch, "but he told me that his wife had got a divorce from him and offered to take me before the judge who granted the decree and prove it. I loved him, and had confidence in his statement; so I agreed to marry him. We secured the license and went before the justice, who performed the ceremony, and I thought I was his wife."

"Asked if she would help her supposed husband, she answered:

"No; I don't want to have anything to do with him."

King is a prisoner at the Magnolia street police station.

"I had not seen my wife for two years, and had been told that she had secured a divorce," said King to the Post-Dispatch. "I supposed we were legally separated, and that I was free to marry again. The reports that she had secured a divorce came to me so 'straight' that I did not investigate, but took them for granted."

DYING WOMAN SPEAKS OF LIFE.

In a Revival Meeting She Tells of Her Conversion to Christianity.

CONNELLSVILLE, Pa., April 28.—Dying slowly from a tedious illness, Mrs. John Adams was carried into a church at Mount Braddock last night on a cot, from which she gave testimony of her conversion to Christianity.

Mrs. Adams is one of the 80 persons converted at a remarkable revival service which has been held by the Rev. D. E. Minerd, the famous blacksmith-preacher.

Twenty-six persons have been baptized and many others are waiting for warmer weather, as the baptizing is done in the waters of Dunbar creek.

A union church will be established as a result of Minerd's meetings.

DISAGREED WITH AUNT; ENDED LIFE

No Other Reason Can Be Assigned for August Lutz Drowning Himself in Hyde Park.

JUMPED HEAD-FIRST IN MUD

Finding of Coat Leads to Discovery of Corpse—Met Death in 18 Inches of Water.

Apparently for no other reason than he could not get along with his aunt, August Lutz committed suicide shortly before daylight Thursday morning by drowning himself in the lagoon in Hyde Park.

The body was found floating at the edge of the water by Miss Anna Schmuch of 1301 North Twentieth street, Henry Berhon of 3801 North Twentieth street and Albert Jacobson of 2916 Kossuth avenue.

While passing through the park on their way to work, they were first attracted to the lagoon by seeing a man's coat and hat lying on the stone steps. The body was afloat and showed no signs of recent death. The men pulled the body out. A policeman was called and the body was sent to the morgue. The water was but 18 inches deep where Lutz met death. It was evident that Lutz had jumped head first and stuck in the mud.

Several cards were found in the pockets, giving the name of August Lutz, 1939 Sullivan avenue, rear. He was a bench and furniture worker at Ninth and Palm streets.

On one card were notes written in German and indicating that trouble with an aunt had driven him to drink and death.

Of late Lutz had been an habitue of a saloon at Twenty-fifth and Palm streets, and was last seen there Wednesday night.

Lutz was about 45 years of age. He leaves a widow, who is at present confined in an asylum, and a son and a daughter. He also had a brother in charge of one of the stands at the Biddle street market.

SOCIETY

A pretty wedding of last Wednesday evening was that of Miss Margaret Kirk to Mr. Frank Beard, which took place at 5 o'clock at St. Edward's Church, the ceremony being performed by Rev. E. J. Wynne. The bride wore white Paris muslin and carried lilies of the valley and brides' roses. She was attended by her sister, Miss Jennie Agnes Kirk, as bridemaid, who wore white lawn and carried pink roses. Mr. Joseph Kirk served as best man. A dinner followed the ceremony at the bride's residence, at which only the immediate relatives were present. After a short journey, Mr. and Mrs. Beard will make their home in St. Louis.

A surprise party was given last Saturday evening to Mrs. Henry Remmert, 2026 Adelaide avenue. The evening was spent by singing and dancing. Among those present were: Messrs. and Mrs. John A. Martens, Otto Martens, William F. Verheyen, Frank Bushman, F. H. Stricker, John G. Fikenscher, J. F. Rupp; Messrs. George R. Sauerbrunn, Adolph Obier; Misses Anna Hartmann, Lena Hartman, Frieda Boemer, Carrie Boemer, Emma Theobald.

The marriage of Miss Nona Quinlen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Quinlen, of 2725 Allen avenue, and Mr. James Henderson was celebrated Wednesday afternoon at the residence of Rev. Father Pleus, of St. Kevin's Church. The ceremony was performed at 4:30 o'clock and followed by a bridal dinner at the bride's parents' home. The bridal robe was of white Paris muslin and lace. The tulle veil was secured by a pearl pin, the bride's gift from the bridegroom. She carried a bouquet of valley lilies and ferns. Miss Margaret McDonough served as maid of honor and Mr. Henderson's best man was the bride's brother, Mr. T. Quinlan. Mr. and Mrs. T. McAuliffe, of Muncie, Ind.; Mr. and Mrs. James McNally, of Alton, Ill., and Mrs. Charles Dent, of Chattanooga, Tenn., were some of the out-of-town guests who attended the wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. Everett Watson Brooks returned from their honeymoon trip and are now with Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Brooks, 5023 Washington Boulevard.

The marriage of Miss Anna Heinecke and Mr. Albert A. Autenreith took place Wednesday afternoon at the residence of the bride's sister, Mrs. Louis Wentz. The house was decorated with roses and carnations. After the wedding the bride and bridegroom departed for the east, where they will spend a few weeks. The bride wore a pale blue gown with duchess lace.

Mrs. William Ketz, formerly Miss Violet Blemming of Detroit, Mich., is visiting her sister, Mrs. W. C. Belford of 2725A Caroline street.

The wedding of Miss Anna Bockstruck, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Brockstruck, of 1302 Dillon street, to Mr. Chas. S. Watson of Houston, Tex., took place on Wednesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Ehlerman will sail for Europe early in June to be absent during the summer months.

Miss Elice Johnson will give a musicale for her pupils on Friday evening at the home of Mrs. C. P. Johnson, 3635 Russell avenue. She will be assisted by Mr. Edward Cowan and Mr. J. Cahill, baritone.

Mr. Marc Jacobson of 5126 Fairmount avenue will leave Thursday on an extensive western trip, embracing a visit to the resorts in Colorado, Utah, Oregon, thence by steamer to San Francisco and Southern California and also visiting points of interest in Arizona, Texas and Old Mexico en route home.

CONFIDENCE MAN BEATEN.

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., April 28.—While a confidence man was in the act of taking $200 from Mr. and Mrs. George Bateman on a Santa Fe train at Atchison last night, he was apprehended by a federal officer of St. Joseph and was beaten into submission. The money was to be used in paying a freight bill the aged couple was told.

The confidence man pretended to be in partnership with the son of Bateman in Oklahoma City.

LADY MANAGERS MEET; MISS GOULD COMES NEXT WEEK.

Eighteen of the twenty-two members of the board of lady managers of the World's Fair met in their building Thursday and remained in session till 3 o'clock. This session is behind closed doors. Lunch was served in the room where the session was held. One of the four members of the board who was absent from today's session was Miss Helen Gould, who will arrive next week.

Well-Known Resident Dead.

After an illness of only a few days James Cohick of Bridgeton, St. Louis County, died Wednesday. The cause of his death was Bright's disease. Mr. Cohick was well known as a native of Florrisant Valley and was a graduate of the Missouri State University. The funeral will occur Friday from his home in Brighton to the St. Ann Cemetery.

Cold Comfort for Father.

There was cold comfort in Judge Fisher's decision Wednesday for Henry Peeling, who lost the custody of his two children to his divorced wife, who has remarried. Peeling is now left alone in the world, and his former wife, now Mrs. Mary C. Eckert, has a husband and her two children, Mary J. and Henry H. Peeling. The father may see them on Wednesdays if he pays $10 a month for their support in the household of his successor.

Every child will all the more enjoy this memorable occasion if fitted out with a new Hat. We will exhibit the largest and most beautiful array of Children's Trimmed Hats tomorrow ever shown in any store.

Mrs. Fischel Club President.

At the annual business meeting of the Wednesday Club, held Wednesday afternoon, the officers elected were: Mrs. W. E. Fischel, president; Mrs. Dwight Treadway, first vice-president; Miss Louise McNair, recording secretary; Miss Zella Taussig, treasurer. Mrs. Edward Le Beaume was elected second vice-president to succeed Mrs. John Green, who declined to again be a candidate, and Mrs. Charles Gildehaus was elected corresponding secretary in place of Mrs. John Green, whose term of office had reached the limit permitted in the club by-laws.

GROWING IN POPULARITY.

The More People Know Newbro's Herpicide the Better They Like It.

The more it becomes known the better it is liked. One bottle sells two, and those two sell four. Newbro's Herpicide is what we are talking about. It cleans the scalp of all dandruff, and destroying the cause, a little germ or parasite, prevents the return of dandruff. As a hair dressing it is delightful, it ought to be found on every toilet table. It stops falling hair, and prevents baldness. It should be used occasionally as a preventive to protect the scalp from a new invasion of the dandruff microbe. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich. Raboteau & Co., Wolff-Wilson Drug Co., special agents in St. Louis.

PLACE ST. LOUIS IN BAD LIGHT

Health Commissioner Simons States Reasons for Opposing Refuge Home for Women.

COMPEL AID FROM CITY

Fact, He Says, Such a Place Would Attract Many Who Would Otherwise Not Come.

At the meeting of the Bord of Health Thursday afternoon Health Commissioner Simon submitted to the board a newspaper clipping which said that Miss Helen Gould had contributed $1000 to the Young Women's Christian Association to go toward the fund for erecting a building to be used as a refuge and shelter for young girls and women who might come to St. Louis in search of employment.

The part of the item which Dr. Simon objects to and upon which he will ask the board to pass resolutions deploring, is that it is the intention to advertise the fact to the public that such a place exists within a certain radius of St. Louis. This feature Dr. Simon believes should not be carried out, because if it is known that there is such a place it will result in a great many cases in persons deciding to come to the city who otherwise might be retarded from doing so were hope of shelter and protection not held out to them.

This would peculiarly affect the health department, he says, for the reason that when these people become ill it devolves upon the city to care for them, which results in the crowding of city institutions to persons whom the city and taxpayers are under no obligation.

Dr. Simon has been in communication with Dr. John Young Brown, superintendent of the City Hospital, on the question and the latter concurs heartily in the opinion held by the health commissioner.

A FRIEND'S ADVICE

Will Often Help You Greatly. Read What a St. Louis Citizen Says.

You may hesitate to listen to the advice of strangers, but the testimony of friends or residents of St. Louis is worth your most careful attention. It is an easy matter to investigate such proof as this is. The evidence must be conclusive. Read the following:

Mr. Charles Kaufman, box-nailer at F. Riddle & Bros. Casket Co., living at 3838 Easton av., says: "For some unknown cause an attack of backache and kidney weakness annoyed me for four or five months. At first it was not very severe, but after awhile it bothered me continually, not only during the day but at night. A friend knowing of my condition procured a box of Doan's Kidney Pills at 'Wolff-Wilson's,' cor. Sixth and Washington av. The treatment cured."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no substitute.

SOLDIERS WILL ESCORT TAFT

Only Direct Personal Objection Will Cause Abandonment of Plan for Reception.

Col. E. C. Culp, secretary of the committee on ceremonies at the World's Fair, and Lieut. Haight, his assistant, discredit the report contained in Washington dispatches that Secretary of War Taft will not consent to a military escort on his arrival in St. Louis Friday night to attend the opening of the World's Fair, at which he will be President Roosevelt's representative.

Col. Culp stated to the Post-Dispatch on Thursday that the escort had been ordered to accompany Secretary Taft from Union Station to the home of Daniel C. Nugent, 3701 Westminster place, Friday night, and from the Nugent residence to the World's Fair Saturday morning.

"The escort is due to Secretary Taft because of his station," said Col. Culp, "and unless he expresses personal displeasure and unwillingness to be attended after his arrival Friday night, it will accompany him as planned." The escort will consist of a squadron of cavalry from Jefferson Barracks.

SECOND QUEST FOR DIVORCE.

Mrs. Gladys Lange's Application Again Before Court.

The application of Gladys B. Lange for a divorce from Charles W. Lange of Old Orchard has been taken under advisement by Judge McElhinney at Clayton, who announced that he would give his decision at the end of the term.

The application is the second made during the year by Mrs. Lange, the first having been dismissed by Judge McElhinney with a sermon on marital duties. The plaintiff charges abandonment and her husband makes a similar cross charge.

BABY GIRL WAS BURNED TO DEATH

SISTER FOUND HER DYING

When Mother Returned From Shopping Errand the Child Was Past Human Aid.

Eva, the infant child of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Clark of 911 LeBaume street, was burned to death Thursday morning while her mother was absent.

The baby was left in charge of her 10-year-old sister, Addie, when Mrs. Clark went downtown. Addie, thinking to surprise her mother by having the house cleaned upon her return, placed the baby in a high chair and ran to a neighbor's to get a playmate to help her "clean up."

In the few minutes that she was gone, the baby reached to a nearby shelf upon which there was a box of matches, and ignited one. The others caught fire, and the blazing sticks fell upon the clothing of the baby.

When Addie returned she found her little sister covered by flames. She ran to the baby's rescue, but it was too late.

Addie's grief was pitiful. She seemed distracted when neighbors, running in answer to her screams, found her sitting on the floor, holding her dying sister in her arms.

Mrs. Clark was summoned from downtown, but before she could reach the house the baby was dead.

150 BIRDS OF GOVERNMENT EXHIBIT IN BIG CAGE.

The twittering and chirping of 150 birds, the first of the United States government's big live-bird exhibit for the World's Fair, broke in on the sounds made by the busy workmen Thursday morning as the birds were taken soon after their arrival to the cage near the Government building, which will be their home. The cage is 280 feet long, 85 feet high and 50 feet wide, and will contain 1000 birds of all varieties.

The smallest in the collection arriving Thursday was a finch, about the size of a canary. The largest was a pelican, having a body as large as that of a goose. The pelican, so the attendants say, has a typical World's Fair bill, which is 15 inches long and has a pouch of flexible skin beneath that can contain the largest dinner eaten by any bird.

BUTCHER GIRLS REPLACE THE MEN

Five Hundred Strong Young Women Now Handle Knife and Cleaver in New York.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, April 28.—"Good sirloin steak, about two pounds? Yes, ma'am."

The butcher girl turned to a huge piece of beef on the block in front of her, wielded the keen knife with a strong, firm stroke and separated a fine looking sirloin from the joint. She trimmed off the fat and threw the steak on the scales.

"Two pounds and a quarter," she said. "Forty-two cents, please. Pay at the cashier's desk."

There were 11 more butcher girls just like her in a market in West One Hundred and Twenty-fifth street. All of them wore black gowns with white aprons suspended from the shoulders and tied in a huge bow at the back. They were very much like the costumes worn by waiter girls in restaurants. The market was full of customers and the butcher girls worked swiftly and silently. There was no shouting of "Cash" and no running to and fro, as girls in department stores sometimes do. Every butcher girl was expected to stick to her own particular block.

The man who employs them has spent two years training them to do it. He began with two girls, and found them such a success that he increased the number to 12, and persuaded butchers downtown on the East and West Sides, and in Brooklyn, to follow his example. Incidentally he has stirred up a hot fight with the Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butcher Workmen.

There are now about 500 butcher girls steadily employed in New York and Brooklyn. They receive from $8 to $10 a week, as compared with $12 and $15 a week paid to young men for the same work.

W. C. Wellman, business agent of the Amalgamated Meatcutters, who has an office in First avenue, near Forty-sixth street, says the butcher girls are lowering the wage scale in the trade. He has begun steps to oust them. The meatcutters' union is affiliated with the American Federation of Labor, and can, Mr. Wellman says, make matters warm for the butcher girls. Francis X. Butler, counsel for the meatcutters' union, says that the organization concerns itself mainly with the affairs of men in slaughter houses, and that the butcher girl question had not been put up to him as a legal proposition yet.

None of the girls in the Harlem shop or in shops on the east side would talk about the Lady Meatcutters and Salesladies' Protective Association that they are getting up. They declare that Mrs. E. Julius, who is their organizer and corresponding secretary, had instructed them not to talk until the organization was complete. They said that Mrs. Julius had no office, and they did not know where she lived. But she visited around at the various stores where butcher girls are employed, and reported that the new salesladies' union was getting along swimmingly. Mr. Wellman said he knew that, although he did not know Mrs. Julius. But the butcher girls were getting so formidable he was going to make it his business to become acquainted with her.

"The butcher girls are organizing on the quiet," said Mr. Wellman. "They send out girls to invite other girls to their meetings. There is no disputing the fact that butcher girls are becoming popular in New York. At some of our local unions we have received complaints from men that their places were filled by women. They alleged that whenever a man was compelled to work overtime, or in any other way to conflict with union rules, he was discharged and his place filled by a woman. We have investigated five stories in which women are employed, and find that the complaints of the men are just. The butcher girls are large and strong. They can lift and cut meats as well as a man. Employers have confessed to us that women meatcutters draw custom and build up trade."

SCOUTS' NEW EQUIPMENT IN KEEPING WITH DISCIPLINE.

The Philippine Scouts will soon have guns in keeping with their soldierly qualities. Maj. W. H. Johnson has prevailed upon the war department to equip his men with improved magazine guns to take the places of the Springfield rifles which they carry now.

Visiting hours at the camp are to be from 9 to 12 in the morning and from 4 to 6 in the afternoon.

E. A. Felder, executive commissioner for the Philippine exposition, has gone to the scouts' camp several times without first writing himself a pass and every time he has had to go to the guard tent and make it clear that he was all right.

The respect of the privates for their superior officers is very pronounced. Maj. Johnson has to keep watch to prevent his orderlies from starving at their posts. Mess call has no effect on an orderly standing in front of the "commandante's tent." It is a case of "the boy stood on the burning deck" with him. He would stand there a week unless ordered to go and eat.

Some of the scouts will go into St. Louis society Thursday night. The orchestra, composed of members of the band, have been invited to play for a dance and dinner. The orchestra is composed mostly of Visayans.

Education Club Concert.

The second concert, under the auspices of the Education Club of the Ralph Sellew Institute of the St. Louis Young Men's Christian Association, will be given Thursday evening at the Central Branch Association Hall, Grand and Franklin avenues. The Educational Club of 100 men, students of the Ralph Sellew Institute, was organized in February. This club has for its purpose the building up of the various classes of the educational department. The proceeds of the two concerts will be used to further extend the influence of the school.

Saturday Admission by Ticket.

Turnstiles to the number of 140 will be in operation at the World's Fair entrances Saturday, and three shifts of men, totaling 325, will be in charge. The coin registering devices for taking admissions are not yet finished, so tickets will be sold Saturday for the Fair and until the coin machines are fitted for operation.

Money Orders for Banks.

NEW YORK, April 28.—Plans for issuing money orders by banks have been adopted by the executive council of the American Bankers' Association, in session here. The council authorizing Chairman Branch to appoint a committee of five to make a contract with some surety company for guaranteeing the orders.

Accuses Women of Robbery.

Annie Plummer and Lucy Chambers, negresses are in jail at East St. Louis, charged with a daring robbery. W. K. Powers of 600 Collinsville avenue, Wednesday night, and complained that two negro women had knocked him down, dragged him back in an alley and robbed him of $6.60. The police found the Chambers and Plummer women, who were identified by Powers as being the women who robbed him.

Homeopaths Will Elect.

Physicians attending the twenty-eighth annual session of the Missouri Institute of Homeopathy, now in progress at the Southern Hotel, will attend a banquet given by the St. Louis members of the association at the Missouri Athletic Club at 8 o'clock Thursday night. The election of officers of the association will be held tomorrow, and adjournment will probably come in the afternoon.

Will Arrive for Opening.

A telegram was received at the World's Fair Administration building today from Leopoldo Ramines Mairena, Nicaragua's representative to the Fair, stating that he will arrive from New Orleans Saturday in time for the opening ceremonies.

BEARISH INCLINATIONS RULE THE MARKET

Some Specialties Advance, but New Bond Issues Had the Effect of Lowering Prices on the General List.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, April 28.—The market showed more animation at the opening today and prices were generally firmer. London continued to come higher, but orders from there for early execution were not large. Consols were ⅛ lower for money and 1-16 lower for the account. The Bank of England rate remains unchanged.

There is still a lack of news or distinctive features to the trading, and business shows but little inclination to get out of the rut into which it has fallen.

With scarcely enough business now to make a showing, the brokers are wondering what will happen when summer time and its consequent dullness come around.

Many think that the persistent hammering at Steel preferred during the past week has been by shorts not only in that stock, but in the general market, using the depression in Steel to drag down the entire market in order to cover at low prices.

The conditions in the loan crowd indicate that there is a very large short interest in both Steel preferred and Pennsylvania. The comparative strength of Pennsylvania in the face of weakness in Steel is a matter of considerable comment.

The trading during the first half hour was fairly active and at figures close to the opening prices.

The announcement that the March statement of Erie showed a decrease of net earnings amounting to $669,900 was the cause of decided weakness in that stock. Only a few months ago the report was in circulation, in regard to this stock, that the earnings were increasing so fast that further dividends would be forthcoming. On top of the Erie statement came the announcement that Norfolk & Western would ask the consent of the stockholders, at a meeting to be held June 17, to authorize the issuance of $35,000,000 new bonds. On this account both issues showed more activity than usual on the down turn.

Steel preferred continued heavy, though the price showed a comparatively narrow range during the morning.

The sales to noon aggregated 105,200 shares, with call money at 1¼.

A report that was circulated around the room that Republic Iron and Steel would issue new securities to the amount of $64,000,000 was not received with favor in the face of the previous announcement that Norfolk & Western was also in the market for the same purpose.

Mexican Central became active again and made a gain of over a point in the late trading. A story to the effect that Atchison had obtained control was circulated and the stock went up as fast as it went down a short time ago. Those best informed say that there is no truth in the rumor of Atchison control.

Another million in gold was engaged today for export Saturday.

Dissatisfaction with Erie conditions is said to be responsible for the report that the proposed extension of the Erie voting trust will be abandoned. At the time the last dividend was declared, it was given out that an extension was practically a certainty.

The close was quiet and the best prices were very irregular but generally showed a loss for the day on the leaders.

The opening prices and changes were as follows: Copper (ex-divided) 49, advance ⅛; Atchison 73½, advance ¼; Baltimore & Ohio 78⅞, decline ⅛; Brooklyn 47⅜, advance ⅜; Erie 26¾, unchanged; Metropolitan 113¾, advance ¼; Pennsylvania 118, advance ¼; Rock Island 73⅝, advance ⅛; Reading 45, unchanged; St. Paul 144¾, advance ⅜; Southern Pacific 48⅜, unchanged; Union Pacific 85⅝, advance ¼; Steel common, 10⅞, advance ⅛; Steel preferred 55½, advance ¼.

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, April 28.—The strength of the London stock market helped the opening here today and prices were fractionally higher except for the Erie stocks, which were sharply depressed by the poor showing of net earnings for March. Amalgamated Copper selling ex-dividend, rose nearly a point and Anaconda jumped 2¼. Union Pacific's gain of a ½ measured the largest advance otherwise.

Realizing sales in Amalgamated and Union Pacific defeated attempts to advance the market further and there were a number of small reactions. General business, however, was very sluggish and the price movement inconsiderable. St. Paul preferred gained 1, United Fruit 1¼ and Brooklyn Union Gas 3.

Norfolk and Western sold off a point on the intended issue of a $35,000,000 mortgage and the Eries were under pressure, the common losing ⅞, the second preferred 1½ and the first preferred 1⅞. Hocking Valley preferred dropped 2½ and Hocking Coal 1. Toledo, St. Louis & Western preferred rose ⅞, but the general list was dull and exceedingly dull.

Bonds were steady at noon.

POLICEMAN KILLS GHOST DOG

Boys Had Painted Handsome Mastiff With Phosphorescent Paint to Scare Children.

CHICAGO, April 28.—George P. Macklin of 1924 Jackson boulevard has lost his valuable mastiff because a number of boys in his neighborhood persisted in making a "ghost dog" of him.

The mastiff, which was of gigantic size and weighed 180 pounds, was enticed away from the home of Mr. Macklin, and night after night the boys would smear his head and face with phosphorescent paste and then turn him loose on the streets.

So many complaints were made to the police of the number of children frightened by the "ghost dog" that officers were sent out to hunt the animal. The climax came last night when a neighbor of Mr. Macklin reported that his 6-year-old daughter had been thrown into convulsions by the sight of the animal. The officers hurried out after the dog and shot him. They are now looking for the boys who painted him.

HOW BARON TOLL PERISHED.

Searching Party Declares Cold and Starvation Killed Explorer.

ST. PETERSBURG, April 28.—Engineer Brousneff, who was sent out in the spring of 1903, by the Imperial Academy of Science, in company with Lieutenant Kolchak and a number of experienced Yakuts and coast persons, toward New Siberia and Bennett island, to search for the Polar expedition headed by Baron E. Toll, has returned here.

Baron Toll has not been heard from since he and his companions left the yacht Zaria, May 23, 1902, in company with the two Yakuts and started for Bennett Island. The Brousneff expedition visited Bennett island after Lieutenant Kolchak had searched Kotelnyi island, New Siberia and the Thaddeus islands.

No trace of the Toll expedition was found. Brousneff believes the members of the party died of cold and starvation. He says Baron Toll killed only six reindeer on Bennett island and adds that the Baron probably encountered open water on his ice journey south to New Siberia and there perished. Lieutenant Kolchak, who is a naval officer, received orders at Irkutsk to proceed to the scene of the war in the far east.

CANAL DEEDS TURNED OVER

Paris Bankers Have Advanced Purchase Price and Only Formal Transfer Remains.

WASHINGTON, April 28.—Deeds for the Panama Canal property have been turned over to Messrs. Day and Russell, who are representing the department of justice in Paris. In cablegrams received by the department, the representatives say the purchase price, $40,000,000, has been advanced to the canal company by a syndicate of Paris bankers, and they will leave Paris for Washington within ten days.

At the time the money is paid over to the canal company in Paris, Maj. Mark Brooke of the engineer corps of the army, now in Colon, was authorized to formally receive the property on the isthmus in the name of the United States. Whether this transfer has actually been made by the republic of Panama, the department of justice has not yet been advised, but it is assumed it either has been or will be made within a day or two. Messrs. Day and Russell are expected to bring with them the title deeds of the canal property.

WOMEN BAR SMOOT SUPPORTER

Mrs. Mary G. Coulter Will Not Speak at Club Federation.

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, April 28.—Utah women will not be represented at the Biennial Federation of Woman's Clubs at St. Louis next month by Mrs. Mary G. Coulter, a member of the state legislature, who voted for Senator Smoot.

Mrs. Coulter had been assigned to the program of the domestic science department, but that assignment has been withdrawn. It is stated that the reasons for withdrawing of the invitation was the flood of protests from women who had opposed Senator Smoot.

DULLEST DAY FOR MANY WEEKS

Only Ten Shares of Stock and Two Bonds Solds at Morning Session.

PRICES BUT LITTLE CHANGED

General Interest in the Market, at Present, Is Entirely Lacking.

The trading on the St. Louis Stock Exchange this morning was so light as to call for little comment. Only two odd lots of stock were dealt in and but $2000 in bonds changed hands.

In the bidding there were but slight changes and the offerings were also close to yesterday's quotations. Transit was a trifle firmer, there being good bidding at $12.12½, with but scant offerings. The preferred showed buyers and sellers too far apart to admit of any trading and the bonds that were sold did not satisfy the demand, as $80.12½ was bid for more.

Banking and trust stocks showed less interest and the two sales, 2 shares of Missouri Trust, and 8 shares of Commonwealth, hardly was a fair indication of the real market.

Brewery bonds were in demand without any sales, as were also some of the underlying street railway issues.

Miscellaneous stocks hardly established quotation.

GRAIN SCORES ANOTHER ADVANCE

Led by Wheat, Which in Strong Speculative Demand, Prices Moved Higher.

THE CLOSE WAS FIRM

Domestic Crop and Cash Conditions the Influence, Cables Having None.

Another advance has been scored by the wheat market, which appears to be gradually getting ready for a wild outburst, perhaps to celebrate the opening of the greatest World's Fair. The presence of an increasing volume of speculative support is plainly noticeable, bullish sentiment having steadily enlarged since the market began to take on strength. The latest government report showed too little improvement at all, and enough bad reports have come in since to strengthen bull and weaken bear speculation. The weather is the best in some time, though a threatening low in the west may change this unless it passes off to the northwest. More talk of increasing flour demands and consequently of more cash wheat wanted is heard and has its effect. The market certainly is shaping bullish, though it will probably have occasional backsets. Coarse grains had another strong tilt, especially oats, which has shot up largely in the past few days. This weather should permit of planting, and a good advance will be made. The cash business in grain locally is still greatly restricted by flood conditions east side. An increased demand from the southeast for corn is reported.

WHEAT—Sunshine and no evidence of an immediate change to unfavorable weather again was the cause of selling at the opening that caused ¼c decline very quickly, but the buying was very active on bad crop news and light receipts, and also outside orders from Chicago. Armour was reported buying here. A strong rally resulted from the general buying. The flooding of bottom lands above this city by break in the Sni levee, causing probable loss of several thousand or more acres, had a bullish influence and the Cincinnati Price Current conceding that prospects barely maintained or slightly lowered had some effect that way also. Cables reported no change in Liverpool and but ¼d advance in London, indicating no response to American advance. Receipts at home market were 11,800 bu, against 17,100 bu a week ago, and at the Northwest markets only 65 cars, against 98 cars last year. July opened with sales at 81c to 80⅞c and sold at 80¾c, then advancing to 81⅝c. Bids of 79⅜c for September and 92c for May failed to find sellers, as considered too low.

A dip to 81⅜c for July was followed by an advance to 81¾@81⅞, that by a relapse to 81⅝c and then a rally to 81¾c. The buying was much better than the selling and mainly said to be long account. Sept. opened at 79¾c and later 79⅞c bid. Shorts were after May and paid 92½c (¼c advance) to 92¾c, so little for sale. The close of foreign markets showed advance for the day of ¼d at Liverpool and London and ⅛c at Berlin, ½c decline at Paris and unchanged at Antwerp. Primary receipts were 1,300,000 bu, against 442,000 bu, and shipments 1,000,000 bu, against 349,000 last year. Clearances in flour were 71,000 bu, no wheat clearing.

The buying held strong until July sold at 82¾c and September at 80¼c, but weakened on some realizing. July selling at 81⅞c, closing at 81⅞c and September then offered at 80c. May sold at 93¾c.

Cash market—A few cars offered, one of soft winter that graded No. 4 sold at 95c. Millers bought 3 hard at 84½@88c and No. 4 hard at 78c. Nominal quotations: No. 2 red, 98c for western and $1.04 for choice; No. 3 red at 96c to $1.02; No. 4 at 90c to 95c; No. 2 hard at 89@91c; No. 3 hard at 83c to 88c; No. 4 at 75@81c.

CORN—Very decided strength was manifest in this grain, though the Cincinnati Price Current did say a large acreage it was expected would be planted. Such a mere guess as this didn't go with speculation, which more impressed also by fact that crop was late than that weather very much better. A strong market in Chicago, where a large amount of contract grade ordered washed out. Receipts, too, were light, only 546 bu here. Liverpool was ½d higher. Sellers were very scarce this morning, only trading in May which sold ¼c higher at 47c. Bids of 47¾c for July and 47¼@47¾c for September, advances of ¼c respectively, ½@⅝c and ⅞½c, failed to purchase.

July opened at 47¾c and was offered at 47¼@47¾c, but later had 47½@47¾c bid. May sold off to 46⅞c and later to 47c. September offered at 47¼c. Liverpool advanced and closed ¾d higher for the day. Primary receipts were 138,000 bu, against 215,000 bu one year ago, and shipments 214,000 bu, against 220,000 bu last year. Clearances were 93,000 bu.

July was subsequently bid up to 47¾c, though no sales above 46⅝c, and 47¾c was bid for September, but late the market weakened. At close there were sellers at 46⅝c for May, 47⅜c for July and 47c for September.

Cash market—Only one car offered, that No. 2 and sold at 50c, destination. No. 3 and No. 3 white quotable at 48¼@49c; No. 2 white and No. 2 yellow at 50c; No. 3 yellow at 49c.

OATS—Better weather failed to affect this grain, with corn and wheat higher, as were outside markets. Chicago reporting a million bu under order to load out, and receipts were of 22,800 bu. No trading in the local market this morning. Bids were 37¼c for July and 31¼c for September.

Later in the forenoon September sold at 37½c, but higher bids of 39c for May and 38c for July failed to attract sellers. Primary receipts were 138,000 bu and shipments 218,000. Clearances were 13,000 bu.

The demand came urgent for May and late 40¼c was bid, but July offered at 38c and September neglected after the early trading.

Cash market—Firm. Light offerings and only a local demand. By sample No. 2 quotable at 42c; No. 3 at 39@42c; No. 4 at 38@39c; No. 2 white at 45¼@46c; No. 3 white 44@45c; No. 4 white at 38@43c.

RYE—No change; nothing offered and market nominally 68c for No. 2 and 65c for No. 3.

Trade Topics.

The Cincinnati Price Current says: Winter wheat prospects are barely maintained or slightly lowered the past week, the more unfavorable reports from the East fully or slightly more than balancing improvements in western sections. Bulk of oats mostly seeded; little change in acreage. Rather unpropitious start. Large acreage of corn expected. Hog packing for week, 445,000 head, against 406,000 for same week last year.

Beerbohm forecasts total English supply of wheat April 1 to August 1 at 82,200,000 bu, or only 400,000 bu in excess of demand, with a reduction in the amount afloat of 4,000,000 bu. The estimated supply is practically the same as last year and the preceding year.

Liverpool wheat market opened quiet and unchanged on report that a bumper crop would be raised in Kansas, which offset a better demand for cargoes that had developed. Trading slow. Corn opened ¼d higher on covering by May shorts and gained ¼d further in sympathy with spot market.

Aggregate stocks of flour in London, Liverpool and Glasgow are reported as 668,000 bbls, compared with 300,000 bbls one year ago. The Irish markets' stocks are said to be unusually large, too. It is not surprising the United Kingdom feels independent and refuses to purchase in American markets.

Prospects are for a larger decrease in the wheat visible than for several weeks past, but as the decrease for corresponding week last year was over 2,000,000 bu the total next Monday may be within 3,000,000 bu of that the year before.

Minneapolis wired: "Weather clear and fine all over Northwest. Much seeding being done outside of valley. Valley land drying out faster than expected. Some high land there being worked. With continued favorable weather seeding will be general in valley next Monday.

The levees protecting American bottoms are reported as holding down as far as Chester, but below that point half the wheat crop is covered by water and the river still rising.

Broomhall cabled: Our Argentine agents estimate shipments for week to be about 2,200,000 bu, and corn about 800,000 bu. Weather again unfavorable.

FLOUR—Quiet, but steady. Business is entirely on domestic account and that shows an improving tendency, but nothing can be said for export. Quotations on soft winter in wood: Patents, $4.75@4.90, and special brands, 20@35c higher; straights, $4.60@4.70; extra fancy, $4.45@4.55; clears, $3.75@4; medium and low grade in jutes, $2.50@3. Patents, $4@4.10; straights, $3.80@3.90; clears, $3.10@3.30; lower grades, $2.50@2.75. Spring wheat patents, in bulk, $4.35@4.55.

MILLFEED—The great scarcity of feed continues, but no demand save from sections where this scarcity felt. The East is entirely out. Bran in sacks cannot be bought below 90c. At mill bran now sells at 66c and ships at $1.06.

HAY—Small business, as not much coming in and only buying to meet immediate requirements. Best grades alone wanted. Market basis east track: Timothy—Choice, $14; No. 1, $12.50@13.50; No. 2, $9.50@11.50; No. 3, $7@9. Clover—$10.50@11 for light and $8@9.50 for heavy mixed. Prairie—No. 1 choice, $9.50@10; No. 2, $8@8.50; No. 3 or low, $6@10.

STRAW—On track: Wheat and oats, $7.50@8; rye, $10.

FLAXSEED—St. Louis—Nominally 97c.

Chicago—Northwestern, $1.07½ b; southwestern, $1.00½ b; May, $1.00½ b.

Duluth—May, $1.07½ b; July, $1.00 b.

Minneapolis—Cash, $1.00½.

PORK—F. o. b.: New standard mess jobbing closed at $12.10.

LARD—Choice steam east side closed at 6¾c; kettle-rendered, 6¾@7c.

RACON—Boxed a. c. meats jobbing: Breakfast bacon 9¾c for heavy to 13½c for choice light; hams, 10¾@11¾c; California, 7½c; New York shoulders, 7½c. Plain smoked boxed lots jobbing: Extra shorts, 7¾c; ribs, 7¾c; short clear, 7½c; bellies, 7¼@8¼c; plates, 6¾c; fat backs, 6¾c; standard backs, 7½c.

COUNTRY LARD—Quotable at 5¼@6c.

COUNTRY BACON—Shoulders, 5½@6c; sides, 6½@6¾c; hams, 10c.

OLEO-STEARINE—Nominal at 6@6¼c.

TALLOW—Country—No. 1, 4¼c; prime winter, 4¾c; No. 2, 3¾c. Packers' prime, 5c.

GREASE—Small irregular lots country: Brown, 3½c; yellow, 3¾@3¾c; and white, 4¼c to 4½c—latter for choice. Packers' stock nominally: Brown, 3¾@3¾c; yellow, 3¾@4¼c; white, 5@5¼c.

LEAD—Dull at $4.40. Nothing done, as no shipments can be made.

SPELTER—Dull and nominal at $5.05.

USE OF FORCE A SIGN OF WEAKNESS

President John Mitchell of United Mine Workers Prefer Defeat of Strike to Violence.

VIOLENCE NEVER JUSTIFIED

Labor Leader Says Great Body of Wage Earners Are Friendly to Militia.

CHICAGO, Ill., April 30.—"The commission of acts of violence in a strike invariably puts the strikers in the wrong," is one strong statement in an article by President John Mitchell of the United Mine Workers of America, printed to-day in The Interior.

Mr. Mitchell in the article on "The Relation of Trade Unions to the Maintenance of Public Order," takes the stand that resort to force is never justified in any strike. He says:

"Violence invariably alternates the sympathy of the public. No matter how just the demands of the men, no matter how uncompromising the attitude of the employer, the commission of acts of violence invariably puts the strikers in the wrong. The public closes its eyes to the merits of a controversy when one party or the other has actively stimulated or has condoned acts of violence."

Again, he says:

"Under no circumstances should a strike be allowed to degenerate into violence. There are times when a great issue is at stake, and the struggle seems about to be lost, when the use of brute force appears for a moment to be desirable; this, however, is a short-sighted policy and brings with it its own punishment.

"It is better to trust to the hope of snatching victory from defeat than to put the union and the strikers irretrievably in the wrong by resorting to force. A single act of violence—while it may deter a strike breaker, or a score of them—inflicts much greater and more irreparable damage on the party giving than upon the party receiving the blow."

The miners' leader asserts that the unions have been misrepresented as a whole, and says in support of this that, "during an industrial conflict, 100,000 may display exceptional self-constraint, and the press of the country be dumb—a single man may yield a club or heave a brick and the wires are hot with telegrams to all parts of the world."

In speaking of the employment of militia to protect property and preserve peace, Mr. Mitchell denies that unions as a rule prohibit their members from joining militia bodies. He admits that some oppose the militia, but does not defend them. He says: "The unionists who do oppose the militia fail to recognize that they, as unionists, are part of the state, interested in the maintenance of the institutions of the state and related with the rights of determining, in part, the policy of the state."

He appeals to union men to identify themselves with all organizations of state, including the military organizations.

In summing up, he predicts that even should actual war exist between unions and the government, the great majority of wage earners would assist in the suppression of the belligerents. Then he adds: "The use of force is properly considered a sign of weakness, and even if for no other reason, the leader who desires to carry a strike to a successful conclusion must, as a matter of policy, endeavor to prevent the commission of such acts."

OBBERS BURN OLD MAN'S FEET

s Wife Faints at Sight of the Torture, and Bandits Flee.

HENANDOAH, Pa., April 28.—After atding church at Ringtown last evening, oben Stout and his wife, an aged couple, rned to their home in the Catawissa ley, and were about to enter when five ked bandits commanded them to throw their hands, under penalty of death. he bandits took a gold watch and $6 om Mr. Stout and a gold watch and $2 om Mrs. Stout. They then ransacked the use and, finding no money, bound and gged Mr. Stout and commenced to torre him by applying lighted matches to s bare feet.

Mrs. Stout fainted at the sight, and they ally got tired of their inhuman treatent and left.

H. REAGAN ADDRESSES UNITY

HOUSTON, Tex., April 28.—In a letter rinted in The Post, Hon. John H. Reagan ays the prevailing conditions are against tryan. Of the coming campaign he says:

If we go into the contest with contesting facions in the party, defeat is inevitable and the rectics of Roosevelt and the policies of the Republican party will have four years more in hich to become crystallized, and that would be e end of constitutional government and the enronment in its stead of a government of lasses, money, corporations and trusts. I believe as earnestly as you do in the great body of e doctrines you have been advocating, but I m not so afraid of the limited numbers of Demcrats who disapprove these policies as to be ady to go into a convention with them. Surely 6,000,000 Democrats need not be afraid 300,000. While 300,000 may not be able to elect President, they, with the influences they can mmand, can surely defeat the election of any e on a platform antagonizing their views. ith me it is not a question of whether we can feat and punish any faction in the Democratic arty, but whether we shall, by uniting all Demcrats, secure an election which will restore the onstitution, good government and the best interst of the people."

"FOUR BITS" TO SEE COUNTESS CASSINI

Half a Dollar, Not Social Standing, Gains Admission to Russian Red Cross Bazar.

WASHINGTON, April 28.—For the modest sum of 50 cents the "plain people" will mingle tomorrow, with the heaviest swells of social, official and diplomatic life at Countess Cassini's Russian Red Cross bazar.

For half a dollar the retiring government clerk may gaze in rapture upon bewitching countess herself, garbed as a flower girl; and for a very few dollars more may accept from her lily white hands wee nosegays.

For four bits the small tradesman and the bookkeeper in the commission house may see the niece of the postmaster-general acting as postmistress at the fair, or buy small glasses of beer at 25 cents or thereabouts from the granddaughter of Senator Cullom, all attired in quaint Dutch costumes.

Mme. Jusserand, the wife of the French ambassador, will be at the head of the Russian bazar, where small articles made by the Czar's clever subjects will be sold at large prices. Mme. Hengelmuller, the helpmeet of the Austrian ambassador, will have a flower booth, and enter into spirited competition with the countess in the vending of bouquets.

Between the hours of 4 and 6 Mrs. Bessie Stewart Hooker's cafe chantant will be in full blast, a dance of the nations being the principal attraction promised. Mrs. Deering is to oblige with an Indian dance; the Misses Freemont will be seen in Dutch terpsichore, and the children of Count Botkekoff will earn the plaudits of the multitudes with Russian dances.

The advance sale of tickets and the contributions in cash have already footed up more than $10,000, and before the bazar is over the countess expects to gather in $25,000 to send across the sea for the assistance of her fighting countrymen.

ROYAL RECOGNITION FOR LIFE SAVER

King Oscar II Awards Medal to Capt. Hans Doxrud, Who Has Saved 386 Persons.

NEW YORK, April 28.—Saved 386 lives in 36 years. Such is the record of Capt. Hans Didrik Doxrud of the American steamship Kroonland of the Red Star line. It is a record probably not surpassed by any other mariner or landsman.

In appreciation of his services to humanity King Oscar II of Sweden and Norway has conferred upon Capt. Doxrud the order of St. Olaf. Christopher Ravn, the consul for Sweden and Norway, notified Capt. Doxrud yesterday of the honor.

Capt. Doxrud began his sea career when a boy and made his first rescue in 1867. In 1879 the vessel which he then commanded fell in with a ship almost capsized, and her entire crew delirious from yellow jack. At a great risk the sufferers were transferred to Capt. Doxrud's vessel and cared for.

Two years later, while he commanded the Plover, he picked up six Norwegian fishermen, benumbed by cold and exposure. The small craft had capsized.

In 1886, while second officer of the steamship Belgenland, he commanded the boat's crew that went to the wreck of a ship in a mountainous sea and hauled the eight shipwrecked sailors to safety.

In December, 1889, when first officer of the Pennland, an old tramp steamer in distress was signaled. Captain Doxrud commanded the boat that saved nine men. On the Noordland in 1892 he saved fourteen men. In 1896 he towed the Obdam, with a broken shaft, into Halifax, saving 118 passengers and her crew of 100.

In 1897, when commanding the Belgenland, he rescued in a driving hurricane five half-frozen men from a frail boat and picked up 17 of the crew of a schooner.

He saved the schooner Ida Maude, the Quebec liner Pretoria, and the crew of the schooner Algeria.

President McKinley gave him a magnificent gold watch, with an appropriate inscription. The British and the Canadian governments have given him beautiful marine glasses. From the Life-saving Benevolent Association of New York he has received a gold medal. He has also received a gold medal from King Oscar II. The Belgian government gave him a gold medal and the Quebec line a gold watch.

Capt. Doxrud was born at Hammerfest, Norway, but has long been a naturalized American citizen. His little family lives in Philadelphia.

SHOOTS FLEEING BURGLAR

Alton Resident Surprises Negroes in Store and Probably Fatally Wounds One of Them.

George Bradford, a mulatto, 26 years of age, is dying at St. Joseph's Hospital at Alton as the result of an exciting encounter between two burglars and four citizens at Upper Alton Wednesday night.

John Bailey, a resident of Upper Alton, passed the W. D. W. Barnard drug store at midnight, and saw suspicious lights in the store. He hurried to the home of Constable Harry Streeper. Streeper and his brother, Calvin, together with Charles Stocker, accompanied Bailey to the store.

Bailey slipped around to the back door. Just as he turned the corner of the building, a burglar darted out of the rear door of the store and escaped. Meanwhile, the Streepers and Stocker were flushing a second burglar. This one almost ran over Bailey.

Bailey fired at the flying negro, bringing him down with the first shot, the ball lodging in the stomach.

The negro says his home is at Little Rock, Ark. He says he does not know the name of his colored accomplice, but describes him as being 22 years old, 5 feet, 6 inches tall, and weighing 140 pounds.

CONVICT REFUSES TO WORK.

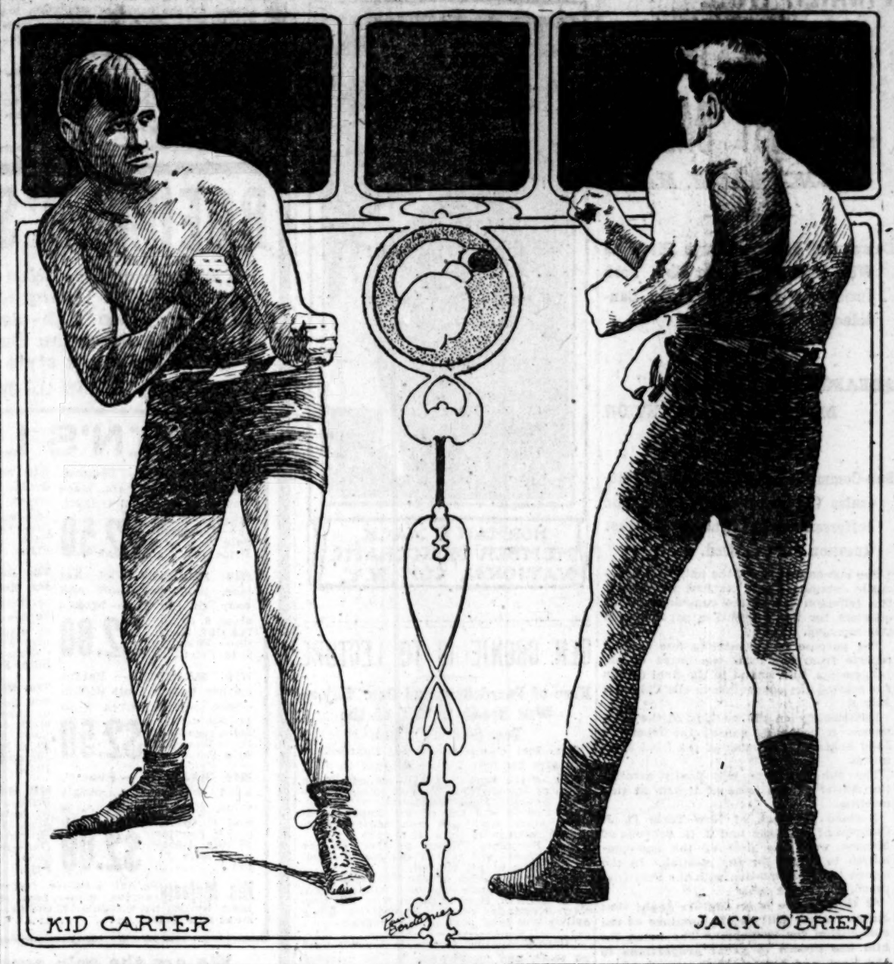
Was Sentenced to Hard Labor and Duration of His Term May Be Affected.

DES MOINES, Ia., April 28.—Sentenced to twenty-five years' imprisonment at hard labor for killing Homer Holland, Matt Hunter of Mount Ayr has served two years which do not count upon his term, and he will have to remain in state prison for life unless he alters his prison conduct. Hunter refuses to conform to prison rules, announcing that he is innocent and should have his liberty and that the state has no right to imprison him.

Warden Jones calls attention to the fact that the court sentenced him not to twenty-five years' imprisonment simply, but the length of imprisonment at hard labor. As Hunter has refused to do a stroke of work in the two years spent in the penitentiary, the warden rules that his term has not yet begun. Whether Hunter can compel the warden to release him if he survives the quarter century of imprisonment may be a question for the courts.

Jones announced this week that Hunter was the most rebellious prisoner the penitentiary had ever had; he refused to obey orders and rules or to perform any work. The warden put him on a bread and water diet, but this availed nothing. The murderer was then put in a lonely cell and left to himself. This was no more fruitful than the former treatment.

Jack O'Brien and Kid Carter as They Will Appear In the Ring Thursday Night at the West End Club



CARTER HAS PUNCH, CAN HE LAND IT?

Philadelphia Jack O'Brien Will Match His Cleverness Against the "Kid's" Superior Strength at West End Club Tonight in Rattling Bout.

Another chapter of the old game of science against strength will be added to the history of pugilism at the West End Club tonight when Philadelphia Jack O'Brien and "Kid" Carter meet in a fifteen round battle.

O'Brien is furnishing the science end of the argument and Carter the strength. The weight is 168 pounds at 3 o'clock this afternoon, which is a good seven or eight pounds in favor of Carter at the ringside. O'Brien fights readily at 158 pounds at that hour, but he will not now try to make any weight. He will carry as many pounds as possible to be in conditon.

Carter is big, strong, willing and has fought some good fights against good men, and O'Brien is so well-known here that no comment on his record is necessary. The big man has been training at Clayton and those who have seen his work say that he is faster than ever before and that his punch is not weakened thereby.

There is no doubt that Carter can put the Philadelphia middleweight to sleep if he gets his punch over and the chances are 50 to 1 against O'Brien performing a similar service for him. But at that O'Brien is about a 10 to 3 shot for tonight's fight.

Carter can box some himself but he is not the man with his fists that O'Brien is and he has not the latter's cyclone speed and perfect defensive work. There is always the chance that a man with Carter's punch who can maneuver around the ring may get a knock-out punch but on form the bout should go the limit with O'Brien the winner at the end.

"Kid" Lee of Memphis and Mike Harty of Chicago will go on in a six-round preliminary. The manner in which this bout was arranged makes it bad for Lee. Promoter Haughton wired Harry Gilmore in Chicago: "Send me any good 133-pound man to meet 'Kid' Lee's block off."

Gilmore sent Harty but Lee does not seem to be nervous.

Harry Sharpe will referee both bouts.

Jim Scanlon, the Australian champion, who is now under the management of Jack McKenna, the well-known local fight man, will challenge the winner at the ringside tonight.

Scanlon comes with a record of having knocked out Dan Creedon in one round, Al Niel in three, and fought Jack Johnson, the negro champion, 10 rounds to a draw.

He fights at 158 pounds, or thereabouts, and McKenna says that he is willing to give any of them ten or fifteen pounds more than that to get a match. He is willing to meet Kid Carter at 170 or 175 pounds at 3 o'clock. Scanlon looks husky and willing.

JAILBREAK AT ST. JOSEPH.

Confessed Highwayman and Alleged Murderer Escape by Bending Iron Bars in Holdover.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., April 28.—William Latrasse, confessed highwayman, and Ray Brom, who admits he killed a man a few days ago at Decatur, Ill., escaped from the police holdover last night by bending the bars of their cell. They left the station unobserved and have not been captured.

Latrasse came here from Kansas City a week ago, and in company with two other men from the same place, robbed Martin Currey, a saloonkeeper.

Brom was arrested here, where he lives, for the murder of a railway fireman at Decatur and officers arrived here today to take him back.

BOER GIANT WRESTLER AFTER A MATCH HERE.

Peter James Visser, champion heavyweight wrestler of South Africa, who is with the Boer contingent at the World's Fair, desires to meet any American wrestler. He has arranged with F. B. Crow, who is connected with the Coliseum, to hold the contest in that place in case he should obtain a match. The young Boer has challenged George Baptiste who says he will not be able to meet Visser for several months. Visser says that he is anxious to meet John J. Rooney, the "giant gripman" of Chicago in the catch-as-can or the Greco-Roman style. He prefers the latter style, however.

Visser is 26 years old and was born at Johannesburg. He is 6 feet, 6 inches tall, and weighs 295 pounds.

SPORT BRIEFS

New York will have no Sunday baseball games until there is a decision in the case of the three players and three program sellers arrested last Sunday afternoon at Washington Park, Brooklyn, at the beginning of the Brooklyn-Philadelphia game. The trial of the players was to have come up yesterday, but was postponed until next Tuesday.

"Jimmy" Britt and "Young Corbett" are to meet in another fistic encounter. Britt stated in New York yesterday that his next antagonist would be the ex-champion. He says that he will be ready for "Young Corbett" next September.

Rufe Turner knocked out for the second time within a month Jack Cordell at Oakland, Cal., last night. Wednesday's performance he accomplished in six rounds, and last month he performed the feat in 11 rounds.

Thomas McGowan was defeated last night in the state amateur pool tournament at the Broadway by Edward Dowd. The score was 100 to 67. Gus Anderson and Albert Howe will play tonight.

There is still talk of a match between Johnny Regan and Gus Bezenah at the West End Club. The match has been on for weeks, but it is understood that a difference of opinion between the fighters and Promoter Haughton as to the monetary value of the match has so far prevented the signing of the final agreement.

Brooklyn Tommy Sullivan, boxing instructor at the Missouri Athletic Club, announces that there will probably be another club tournament in the first week in May.

Manager McAleer, of the Browns, is authority for the statement that Pitcher Fred Glade is rapidly coming around to form. Glade's injured finger is still a trifle stiff and it will take some days before his arm is in condition to pitch a nine-inning game after the long idleness.

The first Trolley league game of the season in East St. Louis will be played at Athletic Park next Sunday. East St. Louis has a fair team this year and the management of the club is in hopes that the effect will be noticeable in the gate receipts.

Jack McKenna, wellknown as a manager of pugilists, and who developed such good fighters as Johnny Regan, Abe Attel and Mike Tuths, has returned to his former vocation. Jim Scanlon, the Australian champion is the pugilist whom McKenna is now handling. Scanlan, who is 25 years old, and who fights at about 158 pounds, has a good record both in this country and abroad.

Young Corbett was introduced as "the champion featherweight of the world" at the weekly bout of the National Sporting Club, London, Wednesday night. He received an ovation and in acknowledgment failed to refer to his recent defeat by Jimmy Britt.

From the talk of the members of the West End Club, the passing of St. Louis Tommy Sullivan as a preliminary boxer is hailed with joy. Sullivan failed to find favor with the fans in any of his last bouts. He permitted Billy Huber to stay six rounds with him on the night of the O'Brien-Sullivan bout, when Huber ran almost out of the ring every time he moved. He didn't move very often, hence the displeasure of the crowd. In his bout with Young Kid McCoy several weeks ago, he had McCoy all but out in the first round. McCoy came back in the next five and beat Sullivan to a draw.

Reception for Athletes.

At the Young Men's Christian Association tomorrow night a reception will be held in honor of the athletic and relay champions of Missouri. The team which won the Missouri relay championship at the St. Louis University indoor meet, March 26, will be presented with five silver cups. Cornelius, Boyer, Gray and Millhouse compose the team.

GOSSIP OF THE PADDOCK

R. D. Williams, who handled Barney Schreiber's extensive string on the coast last winter, was in the city yesterday. He ran down from Kansas City, where racing will be inaugurated Saturday. Schreiber has a powerful stable at the Kansas City track.

William Whelan left for Chicago last night with Lacey Crawford, Sylvia Talbot and 10 other good ones. Barney Schreiber sent Whelan to Worth with these horses.

W. B. Gates, the horse which has won so many races for Capt. R. R. Rice at the new Union track, is named for a prominent Memphis cotton factor. George C. Bennett, who sold W. B. Gates to Capt. Rice, is a resident of Memphis and named the horse for Mr. Gates. Mr. Bennett names all his thoroughbred stars after Memphis business men. Abe Frank, the fastest horse that ever ran in the Bennett colors, was also named for a well-known Memphian.

W. W. Elliott has been unable to get any of his good ones ready because of the bad track at the Fair Grounds. Mr. Elliott owns Miss Mae Day, Hileo and other useful performers.

Jockey Grey's suspension adds to L. S. Sire's already multitudinous list of troubles. The New York theatrical manager's hard luck commenced when Clangor died. Then his crack mare Ancke was taken sick, and now his jockey is set down indefinitely. Gray is about the first rider of merit Mr. Sire has ever been lucky enough to secure a call on. Bad rides cost him a lot of races at New Orleans.

ADMITTED MURDER TO FRIGHTEN WIFE

Husband Confesses He Never Committed Crime, but Wanted to Make Her Obey.

CHICAGO, April 28.—Louis Houston today confessed to the police that he had told his wife he had committed a murder in Liggett, O., and that a man was now serving a life sentence in the Ohio penitentiary for the crime.

Houston denies that the story is true, and says that he told it to frighten his wife so that she would obey him. He said his wife had taken the opportunity to get revenge because he had caused her arrest on a charge of bigamy.

The former Mrs. Houston is now Mrs. Frank Walcott and she is under arrest with her second husband. They have been married less than a month.

Mrs. Walcott says she was never legally married to Houston, and says that he deceived her by having a friend perform a mock marriage ceremony.

WROTE PARENTS OF WEDDING.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

CHILLICOTHE, Mo., April 28.—Not until an announcement made in a letter and received here this morning did the family of Mrs. Arthur U. Campbell, formerly Miss Mayme Bryan, of this city, know of her marriage in Kansas City Tuesday morning.

Miss Bryan went to Kansas City Saturday, ostensibly to visit her brother, and confided no intentions of her approaching wedding to her parents. Mr. Campbell is a traveling salesman.

SLEEPING VOLCANOES

A thin, vapory smoke, lazily ascending from its crater, may be the only visible sign of life in the sleeping volcano; but within is a raging sea of fire, molten rock and sulphurous gases. Those who make their homes in the peaceful valleys below know the danger, and though frequently warned by the rumblings and quakings, these signs of impending eruption go unheeded. They are living in fancied security, when the giant awakes with deafening roars, and they are lost beneath a downpour of heated rock and scalding ashes. Thousands of blood poison sufferers are living upon a sleeping volcano, and are taking desperate chances, for under the mercury and potash treatment the external symptoms of the disease disappear, and the deluded victim is happy in the belief of a complete cure; but the fires of contagion have only been smothered in the system, and as soon as these minerals are left off will blaze up again. Occasional sores break out in the mouth, a red rash appears on the body, and these warning symptoms, if not heeded, are soon followed by fearful eruptions, sores, copper-colored splotches, swollen glands, loss of hair and other sickening symptoms. Mercury and potash not only fail to cure blood poison, but cause mercurial Rheumatism, necrosis of the bones, offensive ulcers and inflammation of the stomach and bowels. The use of S. S. S. is never followed by any such bad results. It cures without the slightest injury to the system. We offer $1,000 for proof that it contains a mineral of any description. S. S. S. is an antidote for contagious blood poison, and the only radical and permanent cure known. It destroys every atom of the virus and purifies and strengthens the blood and builds up the general health.

THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., ATLANTA, GA.

THE ORIGIN, STAGES, DEATH-DEALING COURSE AND CERTAIN CURE FOR BLOOD POISON.

My Serum Specific Treatment for Blood Poison is the Only Remedy known to absolutely cure the disease, removing every trace of poisonous taint and rebuilding the entire system from the damaging effects of Mercury and Potash, leaving the patient with new flesh, new blood, new bones and in perfect health.

CHAS. A. DUFF, M. D.

I am a Blood-Poison Specialist, Not a Pretentious "Cure-All."

My method of curing Blood Poison is by a Specific Serum that I introduce into the blood by subcutaneous injection (hypodermic) and internally, and by its antagonism to the virus of blood poison the taint is ejected from the body as well as the counteracting effects of mercury and potash poisoning. My serum treatment reorganizes the corpuscles of the blood, disorganizes, neutralizes and expels all poison from the system, and the corpuscles are renewed with fresh pure blood, which supplies the tissues that supply the entire human organism, so that the whole body is restored to its normal size, strength and soundness. I can offer no better evidence of reliability that I claim for Specific Serum than the many I have cured, some of them before the yield of blood-poison sores, loss of weight, hair and eyebrows, or some vital organ, locomotor ataxia, and apparently doomed; and within three months after beginning the course of treatment they are entirely cured, robust and healthy, without a symptom ever recurring at any time. The positive effects of Specific Serum are noticeable immediately, as the hair resumes its growth, all manifestations of the disease disappear, the patient begins to increase in weight by the addition of sound, healthy flesh; the skin gets clear and rosy by being supplied with colorless blood, and in ordinary cases, in one month after commencing, the victim feels that his burden of disease is lifted, it drives the poison out of the bones, so that all aches and pains are no more.

NO CURE, NO PAY—Absolutely no charge unless satisfaction is given. Every patient is given a written guarantee to refund every dollar paid for services in a specified length of time if they do not receive a complete, lifelong cure and entire satisfaction, and my well-known financial standing is sufficient evidence to anyone that I am entirely responsible for any contract that is not fulfilled.

SOCIETY WOMAN AIDS IN SWINDLE

Chicago Jeweler Looses Diamond Crescents Sent for Approval on Fictitious Telephone Message.

CHICAGO, April 28.—A diamond swindle of startling boldness, in which one of the finest residence in Chicago was used by the swindler as a clearing house, is being investigated by a score of operatives from a private detective agency. Jewels to the value of $1100 were obtained by the swindler.

The head of a jewelry firm received a call over the telephone from a person who gave the name and address of a wealthy citizen, requesting that an assortment of diamond crescents be sent to his residence for his wife to select from.

The jeweler complied immediately, sending by special messenger a tray containing three crescents. Opening the package, the wife of the man whose name had been used by the swindler beheld the jewels and was wondering from whom they came when she also was summoned to the telephone.

The person at the other end of the wire explained that he was the jeweler and had just sent the diamond crescents to her by mistake. One of his clerks, he said, would call for the gems at once.

Half an hour later a young man called at the house, presented the firm's card, and the diamonds were turned over to him.

The denouement came when, not having heard from the citizen who was supposed to have sent for the goods, the jeweler concluded the crescents had not pleased his wife, and sent a clerk with more jewels from which a choice might be made. The diamonds were returned at once, with a curt explanation, and the swindle was out.

PARKER WILL WIN ON THE FIRST BALLOT

—NORMAN E. MACK.

Campau of Michigan Says His State Will Instruct for the New York Jurist—All Interested in the Candidacy of Joseph Folk.

ARRANGING PLANS FOR DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION

Sub-Committee of the National Democratic Commitee in Session at the Jefferson Hotel Thursday—Ticket Question to Be Settled.

The sub-committee of the national Democratic committee held its first meeting at the Jefferson Hotel, the committee headquarters for the convention, at 10 o'clock this morning.

The purpose of the meeting was to hear reports from the local committee of arrangements, and attend to the final details for holding the convention in the Coliseum July 6.

Immediately on the meeting of the committee, it began to receive the report of John Schroers, chairman of the local committee.

The sub-committee will finally arrange the matter of the issue of tickets at this meeting.

Norman E. Mack of New York, D. J. Campau of Michigan and J. G. Johnson of Kansas were the first of the sub-committee to arrive for the meeting. In the course of a conversation with the Post-Dispatch, Mr. Mack said:

"I think there is no further doubt that Judge Parker will be the nominee of the convention for President. The boom for him has grown to great proportions in the East, and I think it is growing also over the entire country. I expect him to get 75 per cent of all the delegates to the convention, and to be nominated on the first ballot.'

"Of course," continued Mr. Mack, "there will be a number of complimentary votes cast on the first ballot and it is possible Judge Parker may not win until the roll is called a second time.

"However, he will have enough pledges at the start to insure his nomination.

"All of the eastern states, with the exception of Rhode Island, are for Parker. Some doubt has been expressed as to Pennsylvania but I am sure he will also get the solid delegation from the state:

"Perfect harmony prevails in the ranks of the New York Democracy. While it is true Tammany opposed instructions for any candidate at the state convention, yet it is a fact that the organization's minority resolutions paid a glowing tribute to Judge Parker. What the majority resolution did not say in compliment to Parker the minority did say, so that there is not the slightest question as to where New York stands.

"Since coming west I find there is also a decided sentiment throughout Missouri and Illinois for Judge Parker and we are certain he will capture the entire southern delegation.

"Parker is the man to lead the Democratic hosts to victory this year. He is not only a great jurist, but he is a practical man.

"At the proper time he will declare himself on the great issues of the day."

Mr. Campau said:

"Michigan will, I think, instruct for Judge Parker, and I expect to see him nominated. Our convention will not be held until June.

"Parker and Hearst are the only names mentioned in my state, but I think Judge Parker will secure the instructions. There is a very pronounced sentiment for him.

"By the way, how is Mr. Folk running now? I, with other Democrats all over the country, am very much interested in his candidacy."

When told that the Post-Dispatch poll, made four weeks ago, and showing a decided majority for Mr. Folk, had been fully verified by the primaries and conventions held since then, Mr. Campau expressed gratification. The subject of the gossip connecting Mr. Folk's name with the presidential nomination was brought up.

"We can't tell about that, of course," said Mr. Campau, "but I do not think Mr. Folk would want that nomination."

"In the event of a deadlock, and if a compromise should become necessary, I think Mr. Folk might stand the best chance of being elected.

"But I do not anticipate a deadlock. The convention of 1904 will be very conservative and dignified. It will not tumble heels over head into any band wagon; there will be no stampede.

Mr. Johnson said:

"Sixteen of the 20 delegates from Kansas will be instructed for Mr. Hearst. Kansas, however, will support the nominee. If Parker should be that man, he will get the loyal support of the party. We are in favor of a get-together policy, and the party throughout the country will have no cause for complaint against Kansas after the candidate has been named."

9500 TICKETS FOR THE DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION.

Charles A. Walsh of Iowa, J. G. Johnson of Kansas, D. J. Campau and Norman E. Mack of New York, comprising the sub-committee on arrangements of the National Democratic committee, are in session today at the Jefferson Hotel, completing the final plans for the big Democratic gathering, to be held in St. Louis July 6.

John H. Schroers, chairman of the local arrangement committee, met the national committeemen at 11 o'clock and explained the details of the convention plans.

The question of decorations for the hall is now the main point under consideration.

Dr. Mack stated to the Post-Dispatch that the aggregate number of tickets to be issued for the convention would not exceed 9500. Seven hundred and fifty seats will be reserved for the press. None but working newspaper men, Mr. Mack said, would be permitted to occupy any of these seats.

The committee approved Mr. Schroer's suggestion to place a telephone in every state delegation, which will connect with a telephone on the main platform and afford service to all parts of the hall.

In the lobbies an additional number of telephones, affording long distance connections, will be installed.

NEW HAMPSHIRE FOR PARKER

No Instructions Given at State Convention, but Only Parker Men Placed on Delegation.

CONCORD, N. H., April 28.—New Hampshire's delegation to the St. Louis convention will be for Parker for President.

Although no instructions were given at the state convention yesterday afternoon, only men personally favoring Parker were named for the delegation.

The platform adopted demands "tariff revision, control of the trusts, and a halt in the march towards imperialism."

SAYS PARKER WILL BE DEMOCRATIC NOMINEE

GEN. CRONJE IS TO LECTURE

Hero of Paardeberg and Gen. Viljoen Will Speak in Aid of the Boer Soldiers' Fund.

Gen. Piet Cronje, hero of Paardeberg, will give his first lecture on that thrilling battle of the Boer war at a concert to be given at the Olympic Theater in aid of the Boer soldiers' fund Wednesday afternoon. Gen. Cronje will tell of his famous ten-days' stand with 4000 men against 60,000 British, with more than 100 cannon.

Gen. Benjamin Viljoen, another of the Boer heroes, will tell of his capture and of his exile at St. Helena.

National anthems of the Transvaal and Orange Free State republic will be sung by a choir of Boer soldiers, who will also sing Africander songs. Several St. Louis artists will take part in the program.

"Boro-Formalin" (Eimer & Amend) used as tooth and mouthwash in the morning leaves the mouth sweet and pure all day.

Wants to Find Her Son.

Willie Glee, the 17-year-old son of Mrs. Katy Glee of 1519 South Seventh street, has been missing from his home since Monday. The mother has asked the police to find the boy. He is five feet five inches, weighs 120 pounds, with light hair and blue eyes. When he left home he was dressed in a dark suit, with a black fedora hat.

CAN MARRY AND HOLD JOB.

NEW YORK, April 28.—Under a resolution passed by the board of education today, teachers in public schools may now contract marriage without the alternative of resigning or being dismissed.

It was also decided by the board to discontinue further effort to prevent the reinstatement of Mrs. Jennie L. Vandewater, a Brooklyn teacher who was dismissed because she was married.

POCKET BIBLE SAVED LIFE

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSONVILLE, Ind., April 28.—An attempt was made at 11:40 last night to assassinate D. M. Robbins, Independent candidate for mayor.

Two shots were fired through a window at his home, one striking a chair on which he was sitting and the other a Bible he carried in his pocket. This saved his life. A revolver was found in an alley in the rear of the house.

Merger Hearing Postponed.

NEW YORK, April 28.—The hearing in the Harriman-Pierce suit against the Northern Securities plan for distribution of railroad stocks, which was to have come before United States Judge Kirkpatrick, at Newark, today, was again postponed, adjournment being taken until Monday, May 9.
